Truman Blasts at Labor Law Backer

Tomatoes Thrown At Dewey

GOP Candidate Woos Oklahoma

(By United Press)

Unruffled by his first tomato barrage, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stumped Oklahoma today while President Truman campaigned in Minnesota against a Senate supporter of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

In a series of trainside talks, the Republican presidential nominee warned against "careless" use of the nation's oil reserves and renewed his pledge to keep communists "out in the open."

Dewey was splattered by tomatoes last night just before beginning a brief rear-platform talk at Mt. Vernon, Ill. Both green and ripe tomatoes were thrown and the GOP candidate was struck on the leg.

Police blamed "small boys" who were sighted on a nearby building just before the campaign special pulled into the station.

ASSAILS BALL

Though Dewey made no reference to the incident in his speech, he remarked to Rep Charles W. Vursell, (R-Ill.), Mayor Harry L. Bishop and others on the platform, "I seem to have some competition here tonight."

Mr. Truman's chief target in Minnesota was Republican Sen. Joseph H. Ball, a member of the committee which drafted the Taft-Hartley law in its final form.

The President planned to spend two days in the state, plumping for Ball's Democratic rival, Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, and trying to swing Minnesota's 12 electoral votes into his own column.

In Oklahoma, Dewey promised an administration "that will provide a well-integrated and intelligent program for the wise use of our oil reserve . . . based on the closest cooperation of the state governments and the people themselves."

SLAPS AT DEWEY

He also reiterated his determination to prosecute American communists if they break the country's laws. But he insisted that "we will not jail anybody for what he thinks or believes."

Mr. Truman wound up his Illinois appearances last night after charging that Dewey is "bound hand and foot by the record of the 80th Congress and he is running on that record." As a result, he added, his GOP opponent is "lining up with some queer characters" in his campaign to win the White House.

Meanwhile, the President won the endorsement of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. In Paris, the former First Lady's secretary said she had written to Mr. Truman saying that she supports his candidacy.

Elsewhere in politics, states' rights Candidate J. Strom Thurmond predicted that the Republicans will not carry a single southern state. He said his new party is "keeping them for the true, historic principles of the Democratic party."

However, Henry A Wallace's campaign manager announced in Chicago that the Progressive party presidential candidate will make another bid for southern support. Wallace, who was egged during his Dixie invasion last month, will visit Georgia on Saturday to speak at an inter-racial meeting in Dalton.

Gunmen Face Prison Terms

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Three of four men tried in the $40,000 holdup of an eastside club today faced long prison terms after a jury found them guilty on three counts of armed robbery.

A jury of two men and 10 women deliberated five hours last night before reaching a verdict in the robbery of the Ritz club Jan. 23. The panel acquitted Walter Flory, 37, of Elmwood place in suburban Cincinnati.

It returned a verdict of guilty on three counts of armed robbery against Howard (Ace) Bowman, 38, no address; George (Red) McGahan, 61; and William L. Green, both of Toledo.

(By United Press)

Frank J Lausche, Democratic nominee for governor, pushed into a sustained drive for election today as the Republican party in Ohio called home its two U S. senators to campaign.

Lausche, ex-governor who lost the race for re-election two years ago, will have carried his campaign drive which started yesterday into 12 counties, speaking at nine cities, by midnight tonight.

The former governor, elated by large turnouts and enthusiastic ovations, hit at his Republican opponent at every stop He renewed his charge that Governor Herbert "surrendered" to bosses and pressure groups.

Governor Herbert charged today in a speech at Paulding that "Lausche has joined President Truman in a desperate effort to save the dying New Deal."

Some Comics 'Guttermuck,' Dealers Told

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)— The National Association of Retail Druggists deliberated a "weighty" problem today — the sale of comic books.

They pondered over the matter after their president, John P. Tripeny, of Casper, Wyo., charged that the druggists are peddlers of "guttermuck."

Tripeny said that parents and religious leaders alike have been aroused over the "sinister influence" some of the so-called comic books have on youngsters. He said:

"These vicious periodicals have been found to infect the younger generation's mind with unsocial ideas, and in numerous instances they had abetted juvenile delinquency."

France Hits Profiteering

Strike Called By Dockworkers

PARIS —(AP)— France opened war today on food speculators in an attempt to drive down high prices — strongest argument of communist-led unions in fomenting the current strike wave.

Public prosecutors throughout the country received a circular from Justice Minister Andre Marie, reminding them of the government's determination to "prosecute profiteers without pity."

A 24-hour dockworkers walkout threatened to tie up most of the ports in the strike-harried nation today.

The tieup follows the now familiar strike pattern which the government has blamed on the Cominform (Communist international information bureau) and the French Communist party

The strategy consists of short-lived strikes in key industries and commerce points.

Communist Leader Benoit Francon has told his followers in the powerful general Confederation of Labor (CGT) that this method is more effective than a general strike.

War Atrocities Trial to Open

Japs to Face Court For Killing Fliers

YOKOHAMA—(UP)—The trial of 32 Japanese charged with war crimes reopens here tomorrow.

The prosecution is ready to introduce extensive evidence to show that the defendants beheaded 33 B-29 fliers after using some as targets in ancient Nipponese military games.

The defendants, including four generals, were members of the Japanese western army.

Chief Prosecutor Paul K. Von Bergen of Wyandotte, Mich., said eight fliers were decapitated after being used as targets while Japanese soldiers practiced archery, karate or kesagiri.

Von Bergen said the savagery occurred on Aug. 10, 1945, in retaliation for the atom bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

One airman allegedly was blindfolded in a kneeling position while a Japanese officer tried to hit him with an arrow shot from an ancient Japanese crossbow. Von Bergen said four arrows missed the American and the fifth glanced off his forehead.

The Japanese practice karate by pounding wooden pillars with their bare knuckles, kicking boards in two with their bare toes and breaking two boards at a time with their fists.

Kesagiri is the stroke of a special two-handed sword which cuts diagonally across the body from the felt shoulder, through the heart to the right side of the body.

The retaliatory beheadings of eight other captured fliers held at the western army headquarters in Fukuoka, Kyushu, allegedly occurred after a big air raid on Fukuoka on June 19, 1945. The eight were beheaded in public the next day, Von Bergen charged.

He said the slaying of the other 17 fliers happened in the four hours following Emperor Hirohito's surrender broadcast of Aug 15, 1945.

PLANS ANTI-SUB FORCE

Complete Work On City Dam

Big Reservoir Nearly Ready

City officials made a final inspection of the Clear Fork dam today, preparatory to final legal acceptance of "phase one" of the city's $2,500,000 water works project.

The dam, representing an investment of $450,000 and nearly two years work was built by Contractor Roger Au and designed and supervised by the Jennings-Lawrence company, Columbus, consulting engineers.

The dam is approximately four miles southwest of the city limits at the intersection of the Gass and Lexington-Ontario roads. It is 44 feet high, 3,420 feet long and will impound water from a 35-square-mile drainage area.

Although the dam is complete, impounding operations will not begin until the 1,125 acres, purchased at a cost of $200,000 that will be covered by the water are cleared of underbrush.

The reservoir will hold 4,400,000,000 gallons of water, enough to serve a city of 100,000 persons. The water from the dam, however, will not flow into the city until phases two and three are complete.

LINE COMPLETED

Phase two is comprised of the high-lift pumping station, (now under construction and nearly completed) and the completed 24-inch pipeline running from the high-lift pumping station, at the south end of Cook road, to the Woodland reservoir.

Phase three is a low-lift pumping station, a raw water pipeline (to pump the water from the reservoir one mile east to the high-lift pumping station) and a filtration plant, to be constructed at the high-lift station site.

Additional water for the city will be available before the entire Clear Fork project is complete. As soon as the high-lift pump station is complete, the present Maxwell deep well system will be routed through the new station and new 24-inch pipeline instead of through the Alta pumping station and a 12- and 14-inch lines. This will increase the city's daily supply by about 1,000,000. At present the city uses about 6,000,000 gallons daily.

After today's final inspection, certain legal technicalities will be ironed out and Au will turn the dam over to the city

Mayor Roy W Vaughn Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, City Solicitor C. J Kalbfleisch, Water Superintendent O C Kalbfleisch, Engineer W C Statler and Sanitary Engineer B V. Bevier represented the city at the inspection today.

Also present were Au, Fred Tibbetts, resident engineer representing Jennings-Lawrence, Walter E. Rusk, county engineer, and Ralph Stanton, representing the General Casualty company.

NEW YORK —(INS)— Hungarian-born John Santo, international organizer for the CIO Transport Workers union, today prepared to fight a deportation order against him in a court filibuster which may take two years for a final decision.

Parents of Vandals Blamed

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer has ordered a crackdown on the parents of Halloween vandals.

He asked city police and sheriff's deputies today to arrest on charges of neglect or contributing to the delinquency of a minor the parents of all teenagers picked up for Halloween vandalism.

He warned that parents will be ordered to pay for any damage to property done by their children. Judge Cramer asked the local law enforcement agencies to take the vandals home and then cite their parents to court.

"There is no sense in having policemen and sheriff's deputies running around every evening after Halloween pranksters, thus preventing them from answering calls to investigate more serious crimes," Judge Cramer said.

"There has been too much destruction of property in recent years, and some of the stunts, including placing of barricades on roads, are endangering lives," he added.

Last night the police department received three reports of Halloweeners, but no damage was reported The sheriff's office investigated one report on Laver road.

Church Fund Appeal High

Lutheran Budget Is $10,000,000

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The 576 delegates to the 16th biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America were asked today to vote a $10,000,000 budget for 1950 and 1951, largest in the church's history.

The budget covers the foreign mission programs of the church in six different overseas areas: Argentina, British Guiana, China, India, Japan and Liberia.

In addition the budget provides for the work of the church extension in the United States and Canada, for social missions and evangelism and for all other work of the ULCA alloted to it by its 32 synods.

Yesterday the ULCA reported it has attained 66 2 per cent of its $1 984 167 goal for its contribution to Lutheran world action

In another session of its convention the ULCA voted unanimously in favor of a future merger with other American Lutheran church bodies

The convention authorized a special commission of the church to meet with similar commissions of other branches "to confer and negotiate organic union"

The proposed merger is with the following branches: The Evangelical Lutheran church American Lutheran church, Augustana Lutheran Church United Evangelical Lutheran church, Lutheran Free church Danish Lutheran church and the Finnish Syomi Synod

Possible merger with other branches of the Lutheran faith topped the order of business today at the American Lutheran church's biennial meeting at Fremont, O.

Briton Lashes At Reds

Soviets Blamed For World Crisis

By PIERRE J. HUSS

PARIS — (INS) — Russia was challenged to lift her iron curtain as proof of disarmament sincerity today and a Soviet spokesman remarked that his country was able to "compromise" with the late President Roosevelt.

Another stormy debate marked the day's sitting of the U. N. political and security committee.

The body finally voted unanimously to create a sub-committee for consideration of all pending disarmament resolutions.

Chief participants in the fresh verbal duel were Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate, and Sir Hartley Shawcross, the brilliant British jurist who was a prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crimes trials.

At one point, when Shawcross upbraided Russia for keeping the world in chaos, Malik said:

"We reached a compromise with Roosevelt but we cannot compromise with Shawcross and his ilk who do not want to disarm and ban the atom bomb."

MONDAY DEADLINE

While the political committee was meeting, the three western powers set Monday as the deadline for new proposals from the Soviets on a solution to the Berlin blockade crisis.

If no suggestions are received, the Big Three will ask the security council to take definite action under provisions of the U. N. charter.

Shawcross vigorously challenged assertions by Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky that the Soviet Union is ready to guarantee there will be no evasion of disarmament control. Vishinsky made this statement yesterday in his "cards on the table" speech.

SUGGESTS MOVES

The British delegate said:

"That is important; we welcome it

"Let me suggest some immediate measures

"One, let newspaper correspondents move freely in the Soviet Union now.

"Two, let diplomats travel as in civilized countries.

"Three, let civil aircraft fly routes across the Soviet Union as over other countries

"Four, let us have a consulate and diplomatic mission in Kiev and Minsk (Both cities now are barred to foreigners)

"Five, let our newspapers be available.

"Six, let us exchange broadcasts.

"Seven, let our tourists travel to each others' countries and become friends

"Eight, let us exchange university students"

Common Pleas Judge G E. Kalbfleisch today forwarded to state selective headquarters at Columbus the recommendation that J H Francis, 914 Grace street, and Attorney Donald E. Smith be appointed members of the Richland county draft board.

Francis, who served for three years on draft board No 2, has agreed to serve on the board.

Smith was recommended to Judge Kalbfleisch yesterday by Robert Bonham, Amvet commander, who had been asked by the judge to recommend someone from his organization.

Francis takes the place left vacant by Rev Bruce D Young, of Shelby, who declined an appointment because of the press of his duties, while Smith would succeed W E. Stough, of Mansfield, R. D. 6, who said he desired to resign from the board The third member is James F Carrigan

'Tossed Off Like Old Shoe,' Says Veronica's Mama

VERONICA LAKE

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Veronica Lake "tossed her off like an old shoe" after achieving success in Hollywood, the actress' mother, Mrs. Constance Veronica Keane, declares. Mrs. Keane, 47, explained yesterday why she is suing Miss Lake and the actress' husband Producer Andre de Toth, for $500 monthly support and $17,416 she claims is due her under a 1943 support agreement. She contends her daughter earns $4,500 weekly

Mrs. Keane said she had not wanted to upset Veronica, who is expecting a third child within two weeks, but—

"She was a sweet girl once," said the mother. "But she has changed—as many do in Hollywood." Mrs. Keane declared that her daughter's respect and love changed to scorn and indifference.

"I have sold my car and furniture," she added, "and pawned my engagement ring. I have nothing There was nothing else I could do."

Mrs. Keane produced what she said was a photostatic copy of a contract allegedly signed by Miss Lake in 1943, guaranteeing her mother and stepfather, the late H. Anthony Keane, $200 weekly" in consideration of their filial love and affection."

Miss Lake, who said such a document never existed, declared she had paid her mother $115 weekly until her stepfather died in 1946. She said she cut the allowance because she was supporting her grandmother, mother-in-law, two children and a nurse.

Mrs. Keane told of sacrifices she said she and the family made to put Miss Lake through dramatic school and launch her film career.

LIMA LADY LOSES 88½ POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE
Mrs. C. M. Wright, 124 West 5th St., loses weight without dieting.

"I have tried many reducing preparations but nothing ever helped me until I tried Rennel" writes Mrs. Wright. "Since I started taking Rennel I have eaten as much as I wanted and anything that I wanted yet I have lost weight and feel much better than I have in ten years. Before taking Rennel my excess weight kept me tired out all of the time. I am so happy that I tried Rennel because the other products that I have tried didn't help me at all. My druggist recommended Rennel to me and I wouldn't be without it."

Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple, go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle, take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel, no starvation diet, no printed diet list to buy, no expensive vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. —Adv.

NLRB Decision In Galion Labor Hearing Due In 60 Days

Firm, Union Both Reply To Charges

Galion Case Comes to End

By CATHERINE RORICK
(N-J Staff Correspondent.

GALION—Decision by the National Labor Relations Board on charges of unfair labor practices aired in a hearing which closed here yesterday is expected within 60 days.

The hearing before Trial Examiner Howard Myers of Washington, D. C., was conducted at the city hall by Philip Fusco, general counsel for NLRB.

It was one of the first trials of its kind under the Taft-Hartley labor act which consolidated charges filed by a labor union and a company and was tried as one case by the NLRB.

It was held to clear charges of unfair practices brought by the North Electric Manufacturing company against the United Auto Workers union (CIO), as well as charges brought by the union against the company.

The charges must be cleared by the labor board before an election is granted to employes of the plant to determine whether or not they want to be represented by the UAW-CIO, the Independent Workers union, or no organization.

Charges resulted from the 74-day strike which the UAW-CIO conducted at the North Electric company plant, here, last Aug. 20 to Nov. 1.

Judge Myers gave the attorneys, Robert H. Jamison and Fred O. Burkhalter of Cleveland, who represented the company, and Lowell Goerlich of Toledo, counsel for the union, 15 days to file briefs in the case.

The judge will study the testimony and briefs before he makes a finding of facts to the labor board at Washington. If there are objections to the decision, both parties will have the right to appeal to the NLRB at Washington.

DUCK ABSENT

Edward J. Duck, international representative and union organizer who was in Galion to conduct the strike, was subpoenaed to appear for cross-examination by the company, Tuesday morning. After Attorney Goerlich said he could not produce Duck until Wednesday morning, the company attorney, Jamison, agreed to rest the company's case.

Last of the company's witnesses to appear Tuesday morning were Richard Lyon of Caledonia who told of the alleged kidnaping of himself and another worker during the strike, and Alan Ryon, employment manager, who explained about cards issued to employes for entrance to the plant while the strike was on.

Two Boys Injured In Bike Accident

Two Mansfield youths suffered bruises Tuesday afternoon when their bicycle crashed into a stalled car on South Mulberry street, just south of Glessner avenue.

Police said Charles Austin 13 of 36 Lexington avenue, and Ronald Delisle 14, of 508 Harter avenue, received abrasions of the thighs and legs in the mishap. Fred Lake of Cardington, driver of the car, told officers he was traveling south on Mulberry street when he saw the boys coming toward him.

Lake said he brought his car to a full stop but that the boys apparently couldn't stop their bike. The boys were riding double on the bike, officers said.

Both youths were treated at General hospital and released. The accident occurred at 3 p. m.

Home Bakers Come to Aid Of Triplets

ASHLAND—As one of the first moves to aid Ashland's new triplets, Amy, Becky and Candace Mumaw, born Sept. 25 at Samaritan hospital, members of the Anniversary club will sponsor a bake sale at a downtown store Saturday.

Proceeds will go to Mr. and Mrs. Amos Mumaw to assist them in caring for the little newcomers who are still in incubators at Samaritan hospital.

The Mumaws, residents of a small six-room house and with three other children to care for, are finding it something of a problem to plan for the dressing, feeding and caring of three brand new daughters on such short notice.

County Area Escapes Frost

Richland county escaped frost last night and the weatherman said the threat is over for a day or two at least.

The mercury dropped to 44 in the city last night but partly overcast skies and a brisk wind eliminated the possibility of frost.

The mercury was due to rise slightly today, and tomorrow will be fair and warmer, the forecast said.

Skies are due to clear, helping to boost the temperature a little above normal. The mercury has averaged five degrees below normal since the first of the month.

Women Bowlers to Sponsor Benefit Dance Saturday Night

Members of the Mansfield Women's Bowling association will sponsor a dance, "The Bowling Ball," Saturday evening at Richland Recreation. Proceeds will be used for hospitalized veterans, through the Bowlers Victory Legion.

Music for dancing Saturday night will be provided by Tommy Van and his orchestra. Tickets may be purchased at the Richland Recreation Center, the Colony, City News, Tawse Pharmacy, Scattergoods and at the door the evening of the dance.

Mrs. Ray Shively is general chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Southworth and Miss Garnet Karl, tickets, and Miss Norma Hess, decorations.

The Bowlers Victory Legion is a national and non-profit bowling committee, helping the hospitalized veterans, and is carried on from the war years when the bowlers sold 485 million dollars worth of war bonds, bought ambulance planes for the armed forces to evacuate the wounded, and offered other services.

In 1944, the Mansfield Women's association sent its largest check, $500, through the courtesy of the Westinghouse minstrel show.

Since the war $75,000 has been given to the blind veterans for rehabilitation. A program is being carried out for the veterans who are learning to bowl from wheel chairs.

City's Postal Needs Cited By Ford

New Post Office Only Solution, He Says

"Mansfield's postal facilities are so inadequate that we are forced to use our boiler room in every day operations," declared Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford in a talk before the Rotary club yesterday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Introduced by chairman R. E. Moorhead, Ford discussed Mansfield's postal problems, some of the difficulties that have been overcome, and postal operations.

Built in 1914, the present post office was designed to take care of 20,000 people with an estimated complement of 40 postal workers. Today, the same post-office services approximately 60,000 persons and employs 120.

Two of the greatest bottlenecks at present are the lack of suitable operational room and the need for new mail trucks, Ford said. The postal system here has seven trucks, five of them of 1929 vintage, the other two surplus army trucks unsuited for the task.

The postmaster believes that a new and modern postoffice of adequate size is the only solution to effective operation.

The federal government already has approved an expansion and modernization project at the post office, and Ford said he was awaiting word on the letting of contracts.

Gentlemen, you're so Right!

Smoother, much smoother! Reason . . . Calvert is vacuum distilled by a patented low temperature process. Heat that "breaks down" and scorches the mash is avoided. Distilling gently at practically room temperature is a modern scientific miracle that helps make Calvert smoother.

Mellower, to be sure! Because . . . Calvert whiskies are produced by exclusive, modern methods. Calvert's continuous pressure cooking, for instance, means constant control over the mash, less exposure to heat . . . another reason for Calvert's unmatched uniformity, mellowness.

Milder, yes! Here's why: Because . . . Calvert whiskies are distilled especially for blending . . . and Calvert's blending experience is the greatest in the industry. Calvert maintains an unequalled "library" of over 200 fine blending whiskies and spirits for blending purposes.

Tastes better, naturally! Because . . . from grain to bottling . . . Calvert quality is safeguarded by advanced scientific controls. Too, Calvert is taste-tested by a "Consumer Jury" of folks like you . . . to make sure it's the whiskey most palatable to the most people.

No wonder . . . every day, from coast-to-coast, more folks are Switching to Calvert!

Object Lesson For Humans

Cattle Affected By Bomb Are Studied

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.—(AP)—A herd of cattle which was near the first atomic bomb explosion in New Mexico in July, 1945, still retains visible effects of the blast's radioactive rays.

The cattle, White Face Herefords, now numbering 58 are here at Oak Ridge on a 3,000-acre farm for atomic studies. The project is jointly conducted by the University of Tennessee Agricultural and Experiment station and the U. S. Atomic Energy commission.

What happened to the cattle is an object lesson for human beings. Men can avoid what befell the animals. But only if they know what to do.

This herd was one looked when the Alamogordo area known as Trinity was cleared before the July 16 bomb. The cattle were miles away where hills protected them from the flash of heat, the blast and the radioactive rays of the explosion.

But desert dust, blasted up by the bomb, rose with the atomic column and floated with the atomic cloud. This dust was radioactive. The cloud drifted over the herd, and a light rain fell, peppering them with the dust and probably other radioactive particles.

The cattle were discovered by an airplane two days later and placed under observation. After a few days, the hair on their backs turned white in long bands of varying widths. Afterward most of this hair fell out. Later the hair grew again on some but not all of the animals. When the new hair came in, it was not the original red color, but mostly gray.

On some there were permanent bald streaks and others developed sores on their backs. After healing, some developed thick, deep scars.

The radioactive rays that cause these injuries can also cause cancer. No malignancies have appeared, but the cattle will be watched because cancers due to radioactivity may take years to develop.

There was one bull in the herd and he has sired offspring from the atomic cows. No hereditary effects have appeared.

The atomic cattle seem more susceptible to skin troubles than other animals of their kind.

The University of Tennessee on May 13 undertook a cooperative long time study of the animals. The program was arranged by Dr. A. H. Holland, Jr., Atomic Energy commission, director of research and medicine for the Oak Ridge operations and Prof. Charles A. Hobbs of the Experiment Station.

The herd was bought by the Manhattan district soon after the New Mexico bomb was detonated. One or two of the animals were slaughtered for examination. No radioactivity was found in their meat. The meat will be studied here later on for possible effects on edibility.

The heredity possibilities will be watched for a long time. Radioactive damage is often long delayed. The university and the commission have acquired a herd of 75 Herefords from the region where the bomb exploded.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food and indigestion and gas frequently cause a moral, tough, [illegible] condition instead of a [illegible] refreshing night's sleep, weekly.

To get real relief, you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other kalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people. SSS Tonic has helped Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

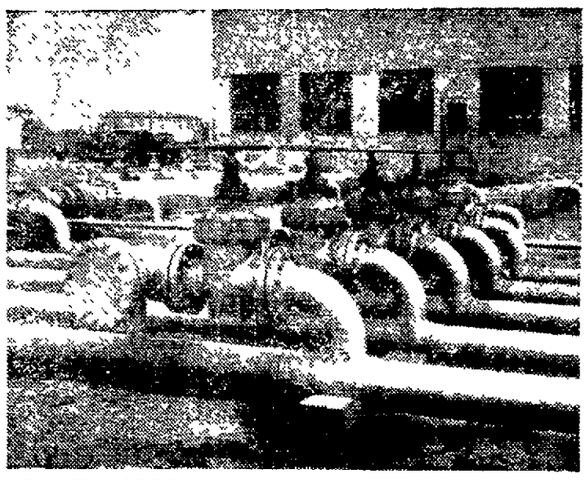
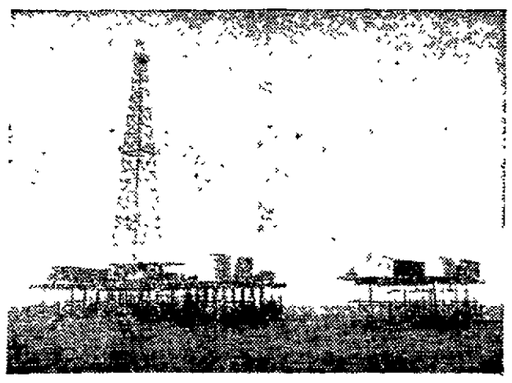
TO GIVE YOU MORE and better gasoline and other petroleum products, this big 15 story catalytic cracking unit is nearing completion at The Ohio Oil Company's Robinson, Illinois refinery.



TO GET MORE OIL to you faster, new and modernized pumping stations like this one are speeding up transportation through The Ohio Oil Company's 4,000 miles of pipelines.



TO HELP INSURE your petroleum needs far into the future, The Ohio Oil Company is now exploring for oil far beneath the ocean bed—six miles out in the Gulf of Mexico. This giant island of steel has a working area, half a city block long and a quarter block wide.

But there's something the camera missed

(something reassuring to you as an American as well as a user of petroleum products!)

Take a quick look at these pictures.

You see what the camera saw . . . a giant new catalytic cracking unit, new transportation facilities, a towering new off-shore derrick.

You see part of the oil industry's swift, decisive, four billion dollar answer to the nation's increasing oil needs . . . to the ever-growing needs of the "oil age" ahead.

But take a more thoughtful look

You'll see something the camera missed. You'll see that what the 34,000 individual companies of the oil industry have accomplished is not just a triumph for the industry.

It is a triumph for the free, unfettered American way of life. It is a triumph for the thing we call Free Enterprise. It is another demonstration of healthy, vigorous American business competition getting things done.

That's what the camera missed. But that's what must be most reassuring to all Americans, on Oil Progress Day.

Oil Progress Day is American Progress Day.

Senior High Is Set For Springfielders

Senior high's rebounding Tygers—at their best psychological stage of the season—are looking forward to another road game Friday night, a convincing victory in which would definitely set them up as a threat to mighty Massillon.

The Tygers journey to Springfield in an attempt to repeat the upset magic they used last week at Portsmouth By virtue of their convincing victory over the Ohio River boys, the Tygers must be given a good chance at Springfield Yet Mansfield fans well remember last year's meeting A Springfield team which was at rock bottom got up off the floor and smacked down previously undefeated Mansfield by a score of 32 to 6

Coach Augie Morningstar is taking no chances of another such episode as he plans to work his charges to the limit in practice this week

LINE LOOKS GOOD

Speaking of the Portsmouth game, Morningstar said that good blocking and the out-and out brute strength of the Mansfield line made the difference The same forward wall which had looked pitiful in three previous starts pushed Portsmouth all over the field

"Our defense was no better than before,' reported the Tyger chief, 'but our defense was so good that we had the ball practically all of the time and the law of averages naturally produced some scores"

Without letting down on the defensive work Morningstar plans to concentrate on offense this week with a stress on blocking and the timing of blocks

The Tygers are in good physical shape although minor illnesses continue to plague some of the boys Several are out with colds Joe Miller was given the day off yesterday because of boils and Lou Gregorio may be out with a leg infection

Norb Shibinski big right tackle has a muscle bruise but will be okay by Friday, Morningstar says

Montreal 9 Wins Series Battle Of Brooklyn Farms

MONTREAL —(UP)— Now that the little world series is over with Montreal Royals beating St Paul four games to one players of both clubs were looking forward to another sort of battle today—for jobs with the parent Brooklyn Dodgers next spring

The International league's Royals culminated one of its greatest seasons yesterday by defeating their 'blood" brothers from the American association 7 to 2, to win the series The win completed the cycle in which the Royals won their league pennant, the playoffs and broke all league attendance records

Oscar Grimes was the hero of the day The veteran third baseman pinch hit for hurler Jack Banta and slammed a three-run triple which gave the Royals the victory Up to that blow the Saints had battled the Royals to a standstill

Tomatoes Thrown At Dewey

GOP Candidate Woos Oklahoma

(By United Press)

Unruffled by his first tomato barrage, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stumped Oklahoma today while President Truman campaigned in Minnesota against a Senate supporter of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

In a series of trainside talks, the Republican presidential nominee warned against "careless" use of the nation's oil reserves and renewed his pledge to keep communists "out in the open."

Dewey was splattered by tomatoes last night just before beginning a brief rear platform talk at Mt. Vernon, Ill. Both green and ripe tomatoes were thrown and the GOP candidate was struck on the leg.

Police blamed "small boys" who were sighted on a nearby building just before the campaign special pulled into the station.

ASSAILS BALL

Though Dewey made no reference to the incident in his speech, he remarked to Rep Charles W. Vursell, (R.-Ill.), Mayor Harry L. Bishop and others on the platform, "I seem to have some competition here tonight."

Mr. Truman's chief target in Minnesota was Republican Sen. Joseph H. Ball, a member of the committee which drafted the Taft-Hartley law in its final form.

The President planned to spend two days in the state, plumping for Ball's Democratic rival, Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, and trying to swing Minnesota's 12 electoral votes into his own column.

In Oklahoma, Dewey promised an administration "that will provide a well-integrated and intelligent program for the wise use of our oil reserve . . . based on the closest cooperation of the state governments and the people themselves."

SLAPS AT DEWEY

He also reiterated his determination to prosecute American communists if they break the country's laws. But he insisted that "we will not jail anybody for what he thinks or believes."

Mr. Truman wound up his Illinois appearances last night after charging that Dewey is "bound hand and foot by the record of the 80th Congress and he is running on that record." As a result, he added, his GOP opponent is "lining up with some queer characters" in his campaign to win the White House.

Meanwhile, the President won the endorsement of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. In Paris, the former First Lady's secretary said she had written to Mr. Truman saying that she supports his candidacy.

Elsewhere in politics, states' rights Candidate J. Strom Thurmond predicted that the Republicans will not carry a single southern state. He said his new party is "keeping them for the true, historic principles of the Democratic party."

However, Henry A. Wallace's campaign manager announced in Chicago that the Progressive party presidential candidate will make another bid for southern support Wallace, who was egged during his Dixie invasion last month, will visit Georgia on Saturday to speak at an inter-racial meeting in Dalton.

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Three of four men tried in the $40,000 holdup of an eastside club today faced long prison terms after a jury found them guilty on three counts of armed robbery.

A jury of two men and 10 women deliberated five hours last night before reaching a verdict in the robbery of the Ritz club Jan. 23. The panel acquitted Walter Flory, 37, of Elmwood place in suburban Cincinnati.

It returned a verdict of guilty on three counts of armed robbery against Howard (Ace) Bowman, 38, no address; George (Red) McGahan, 61; and William L. Green, both of Toledo.

Ohio Rivals Begin Final Vote Drive

GOP, Dems Plan Sustained Push

(By United Press)

Frank J. Lausche, Democratic nominee for governor, pushed into a sustained drive for election today as the Republican party in Ohio called home its two U. S. senators to campaign.

The GOP state chairman, Fred H. Johnson, of Zanesville, announced that Republican Senators Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker would spend the closing weeks of the Nov. 2 election effort in Ohio.

Taft was scheduled to make at least nine speeches in the state between Oct. 21-30. He will appear first before the Chamber of Commerce state convention in Cincinnati on Oct. 21-22.

Other engagements of Taft include: Oct. 26, Marion county rally; Oct. 27, appear with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential candidate, in Cleveland; Oct. 29, Erie county rally at Sandusky, and Oct. 30, Galion rally.

Bricker, who has been making major speeches for the GOP national ticket throughout the west and midwestern states, will give at least 12 speeches in the Ohio campaign.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, Republican seeking re-election, joined a caravan today to tour the Fifth congressional district.

Lausche, ex-governor who lost the race for re-election two years ago, will have carried his campaign drive which started yesterday into 12 counties, speaking at nine cities, by midnight tonight.

The former governor, elated by large turnouts and enthusiastic ovations, hit at his Republican opponent at every stop. He renewed his charge that Governor Herbert "surrendered" to bosses and pressure groups.

Governor Herbert charged today in a speech at Paulding that "Lausche has joined President Truman in a desperate effort to save the dying New Deal."

Some Comics 'Guttermuck,' Dealers Told

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)— The National Association of Retail Druggists deliberated a "weighty" problem today — the sale of comic books.

They pondered over the matter after their president, John P. Tripeny, of Casper, Wyo., charged that the druggists are peddlers of "guttermuck."

Tripeny said that parents and religious leaders alike have been aroused over the "sinister influence" some of the so-called comic books have on youngsters. He said:

"These vicious periodicals have been found to infect the younger generation's mind with unsocial ideas, and in numerous instances they had abetted juvenile delinquency."

France Hits Profiteering

Strike Called By Dockworkers

PARIS —(AP)— France opened war today on food speculators in an attempt to drive down high prices — strongest argument of communist-led unions in fomenting the current strike wave.

Public prosecutors throughout the country received a circular from Justice Minister Andre Marie, reminding them of the government's determination to "prosecute profiteers without pity."

A 24-hour dockworkers walkout threatened to tie up most of the ports in the strike-harried nation today.

The tieup follows the now familiar strike pattern which the government has blamed on the Cominform (Communist international information bureau) and the French Communist party

The strategy consists of short-lived strikes in key industries and commerce points.

Communist Leader Benoit Francon has told his followers in the powerful general Confederation of Labor (CGT) that this method is more effective than a general strike.

War Atrocities Trial to Open

Japs to Face Court For Killing Fliers

YOKOHAMA—(UP)—The trial of 32 Japanese charged with war crimes reopens here tomorrow.

The prosecution is ready to introduce extensive evidence to show that the defendants beheaded 33 B-29 fliers after using some as targets in ancient Nipponese military games

The defendants, including four generals, were members of the Japanese western army.

Chief Prosecutor Paul K. Von Bergen of Wyandotte, Mich., said eight fliers were decapitated after being used as targets while Japanese soldiers practiced archery, karate or kesagiri.

Von Bergen said the savagery occurred on Aug. 10, 1945, in retaliation for the atom bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

One airman allegedly was blindfolded in a kneeling position while a Japanese officer tried to hit him with an arrow shot from an ancient Japanese crossbow. Von Bergen said four arrows missed the American and the fifth glanced off his forehead.

The Japanese practice karate by pounding wooden pillars with their bare knuckles, kicking boards in two with their bare toes and breaking two boards at a time with their fists.

Kesagiri is the stroke of a special two-handed sword which cuts diagonally across the body from the felt shoulder, through the heart to the right side of the body

The retaliatory beheadings of eight other captured fliers held at the western army headquarters in Fukuoka, Kyushu, allegedly occurred after a big air raid on Fukuoka on June 19, 1945 The eight were beheaded in public the next day, Von Bergen charged.

He said the slaying of the other 17 fliers happened in the four hours following Emperor Hirohito's surrender broadcast of Aug 15, 1945.

PLANS ANTI-SUB FORCE

LONDON —(INS)— The British admirally disclosed plans today to create an anti-submarine force of more than 300 ships.

Complete Work On City Dam

Big Reservoir Nearly Ready

City officials made a final inspection of the Clear Fork dam today, preparatory to final legal acceptance of "phase one" of the city's $2,500,000 water works project.

The dam, representing an investment of $450,000 and nearly two years work was built by Contractor Roger Au and designed and supervised by the Jennings-Lawrence company, Columbus, consulting engineers.

The dam is approximately four miles southwest of the city limits at the intersection of the Gass and Lexington-Ontario roads. It is 44 feet high, 3,420 feet long and will impound water from a 35-square-mile drainage area.

Although the dam is complete, impounding operations will not begin until the 1,125 acres, purchased at a cost of $200,000 that will be covered by the water are cleared of underbrush

The reservoir will hold 4,400,000,000 gallons of water, enough to serve a city of 100,000 persons. The water from the dam, however, will not flow into the city until phases two and three are complete.

LINE COMPLETED

Phase two is comprised of the high-lift pumping station, (now under construction and nearly completed) and the completed 24-inch pipeline running from the high-lift pumping station, at the south end of Cook road, to the Woodland reservoir.

Phase three is a low-lift pumping station, a raw water pipeline (to pump the water from the reservoir one mile east to the high-lift pumping station) and a filtration plant, to be constructed at the high-lift station site.

Additional water for the city will be available before the entire Clear Fork project is complete. As soon as the high-lift pump station is complete, the present Maxwell deep well system will be routed through the new station and new 24-inch pipeline instead of through the Alta pumping station and a 12- and 14-inch lines. This will increase the city's daily supply by about 1,000,000. At present the city uses about 6,000,000 gallons daily.

After today's final inspection, certain legal technicalities will be ironed out and Au will turn the dam over to the city.

Mayor Roy W Vaughn, Service-Safety Director Earl T Garrison, City Solicitor C J Kalbfleisch, Water Superintendent O. C. Kalbfleisch, Engineer W. C. Statler and Sanitary Engineer B. V Bevier represented the city at the inspection today.

Also present were Au, Fred Tibbetts, resident engineer representing Jennings-Lawrence, Walter E. Rusk, county engineer, and Ralph Stanton, representing the General Casualty company.

Fights Deportation

NEW YORK —(INS)— Hungarian-born John Santo, international organizer for the CIO Transport Workers union, today prepared to fight a deportation order against him in a court filibuster which may take two years for a final decision.

Parents of Vandals Blamed

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer has ordered a crackdown on the parents of Halloween vandals.

He asked city police and sheriff's deputies today to arrest on charges of neglect or contributing to the delinquency of a minor the parents of all teenagers picked up for Halloween vandalism.

He warned that parents will be ordered to pay for any damage to property done by their children. Judge Cramer asked the local law enforcement agencies to take the vandals home and then cite their parents to court.

"There is no sense in having policemen and sheriff's deputies running around every evening after Halloween pranksters, thus preventing them from answering calls to investigate more serious crimes," Judge Cramer said.

"There has been too much destruction of property in recent years, and some of the stunts, including placing of barricades on roads, are endangering lives," he added.

Last night the police department received three reports of Halloweeners, but no damage was reported. The sheriff's office investigated one report on Laver road.

Church Fund Appeal High

Lutheran Budget Is $10,000,000

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The 576 delegates to the 16th biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America were asked today to vote a $10,000,000 budget for 1950 and 1951, largest in the church's history

The budget covers the foreign mission programs of the church in six different overseas areas: Argentina, British Guiana, China, India, Japan and Liberia.

In addition the budget provides for the work of the church extension in the United States and Canada, for social missions and evangelism and for all other work of the ULCA alloted to it by its 32 synods.

Yesterday the ULCA reported it has attained 66 2 per cent of its $1 984,167 goal for its contribution to Lutheran world action

In another session of its convention the ULCA voted unanimously in favor of a future merger with other American Lutheran church bodies

The convention authorized a special commission of the church to meet with similar commissions of other branches "to confer and negotiate organic union."

The proposed merger is with the following branches: The Evangelical Lutheran church, American Lutheran church, Augustana Lutheran Church United Evangelical Lutheran church, Lutheran Free church, Danish Lutheran church and the Finnish Syomi Synod

Possible merger with other branches of the Lutheran faith topped the order of business today at the American Lutheran church's biennial meeting at Fremont, O.

Briton Lashes At Reds

Soviets Blamed For World Crisis

By PIERRE J. HUSS

PARIS — (INS) — Russia was challenged to lift her iron curtain as proof of disarmament sincerity today and a Soviet spokesman remarked that his country was able to "compromise" with the late President Roosevelt.

Another stormy debate marked the day's sitting of the U. N. political and security committee.

The body finally voted unanimously to create a sub-committee for consideration of all pending disarmament resolutions.

Chief participants in the fresh verbal duel were Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate, and Sir Hartley Shawcross, the brilliant British jurist who was a prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crimes trials.

At one point, when Shawcross upbraided Russia for keeping the world in chaos, Malik said:

"We reached a compromise with Roosevelt but we cannot compromise with Shawcross and his ilk who do not want to disarm and ban the atom bomb."

MONDAY DEADLINE

While the political committee was meeting, the three western powers set Monday as the deadline for new proposals from the Soviets on a solution to the Berlin blockade crisis.

If no suggestions are received, the Big Three will ask the security council to take definite action under provisions of the U. N. charter.

Shawcross vigorously challenged assertions by Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky that the Soviet Union is ready to guarantee there will be no evasion of disarmament control. Vishinsky made this statement yesterday in his "cards on the table" speech.

SUGGESTS MOVES

The British delegate said:

"That is important; we welcome it.

"Let me suggest some immediate measures.

"One, let newspaper correspondents move freely in the Soviet Union now.

"Two, let diplomats travel as in civilized countries.

"Three, let civil aircraft fly routes across the Soviet Union as over other countries.

"Four, let us have a consulate and diplomatic mission in Kiev and Minsk. (Both cities now are barred to foreigners.)

"Five, let our newspapers be available.

"Six, let us exchange broadcasts.

"Seven, let our tourists travel to each others' countries and become friends.

"Eight, let us exchange university students."

2 Chosen For Board

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch today forwarded to state selective headquarters at Columbus the recommendation that J. H Francis, 914 Grace street, and Attorney Donald E. Smith be appointed members of the Richland county draft board.

Francis, who served for three years on draft board No. 2, has agreed to serve on the board.

Smith was recommended to Judge Kalbfleisch yesterday by Robert Bonham, Amvet commander, who had been asked by the judge to recommend someone from his organization.

Francis takes the place left vacant by Rev. Bruce D. Young, of Shelby, who declined an appointment because of the press of his duties, while Smith would succeed W E Stough, of Mansfield, R. D. 6, who said he desired to resign from the board. The third member is James F. Carrigan.

Curfew Revived

JACKSON —(INS)—Curfew shall ring tonight.

Complaints of Halloween vandalism prompted Jackson officials to dig up an old city ordinance providing for a 10 p m curfew for children under 16

Mayor Walter Ridenour was instructed by city council to employ additional police to enforce the curfew.

'Tossed Off Like Old Shoe,' Says Veronica's Mama

VERONICA LAKE

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Veronica Lake "tossed her off like an old shoe" after achieving success in Hollywood, the actress' mother, Mrs. Constance Veronica Keane, declares. Mrs. Keane, 47, explained yesterday why she is suing Miss Lake and the actress' husband, Producer Andre de Toth, for $500 monthly support and $17,416 she claims is due her under a 1943 support agreement. She contends her daughter earns $4,500 weekly.

Mrs. Keane said she had not wanted to upset Veronica, who is expecting a third child within two weeks, but—

"She was a sweet girl once," said the mother. "But she has changed—as many do in Hollywood." Mrs. Keane declared that her daughter's respect and love changed to scorn and indifference.

"I have sold my car and furniture," she added, "and pawned my engagement ring. I have nothing There was nothing else I could do."

Mrs. Keane produced what she said was a photostatic copy of a contract allegedly signed by Miss Lake in 1943, guaranteeing her mother and stepfather, the late H. Anthony Keane, $200 weekly" in consideration of their filial love and affection."

Miss Lake, who said such a document never existed, declared she had paid her mother $115 weekly until her stepfather died in 1946. She said she cut the allowance because she was supporting her grandmother, mother-in-law, two children and a nurse.

Mrs. Keane told of sacrifices she said she and the family made to put Miss Lake through dramatic school and launch her film career.

Mine Owners Fearful Pay Raise Would Cripple Industry

Reduction In Coal Use Foreseen

New Price Rise Seen as Result

CINCINNATI — (CP) — Coal industry sources took a dim view today of the new wage and hour demands of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Industry representatives in this city, said to be one of the greatest coal sales center in the country, were fearful that the demands may force costly concessions to the miners.

They said this could push the price of coal so high that it would be unable to compete favorably with other fuels.

One official, who asked not to be identified, said he does not see how the industry can guarantee a fixed amount of wages or working days. This was one of the most common recommendations of the 601 wage scale resolutions referred to Lewis and a 60-man committee at the close of the union's 40th convention yesterday.

STEADY WORK SEEN

Lewis earlier served notice that the union expected the industry to share available working time evenly among employes. He said that if the operators don't, the United Mine Workers can and will.

However, Lewis and industry officials are looking toward a strengthening market over the next five or six months so that the problem of irregular employment is expected to be in the background until early next year, at least.

The miners voted to demand a general pay increase, a reduction of the work week to 30 or 35 hours, higher annual vacation pay, free mining supplies and improvements in the welfare and retirement fund.

Lewis earlier promised that this fund, raised by a 20-cent levy of every ton of coal mined, will increase its benefits "whenever we see a chance to make an inch of progress." He said $100 a month pensions should be paid at age 60 after 20 years' service and that the $1,000 death payment be increased, but did not say how much. The present retirement age is 62.

Mrs. Kasenkina's Story—No. 18

Kept Under Watch Of Soviet Agents

By OKSANA KASENKINA
(Edited by Isaac Don Levine)

During my second year in the United States the social boycott of me took on the character of an organized cat-and-mouse game. My independent spirit as evidenced by my failure to fall in with the lickspittles around the Soviet functionaries and by my occasional outbursts in defense of American ways and things made me the object of growing persecution.

To this day I do not know why I was not sent back home early in 1947, unless it was due to the praise bestowed upon me for work well done by such personages as Madame Gromyko and General Vassiliev, of the Soviet military mission, whose children were in my classes.

The campaign to provoke me so that I put my foot in a trap went as far as dropping valuables in my path, in the hope that I would steal them in good Communist style. But I would invariably return the finds, and complained to the director against these despicable tactics He would shrug his shoulders and take no action.

I collected dress patterns, in addition to botanical specimens which I carefully mounted. Frequently I found all these messed up by a mysterious hand which had obviously ransacked all the drawers in my chest, without even bothering to put the contents in order. Whenever I complained to the director, he hinted that this might be the work of the United States secret police.

ALLOWED TO TRAVEL

Another form of attack in the psychological warfare waged against me was the question fired at me now and then, "Why don't you ever write letters back home?" Not to be pestered too much, I would once in a while pen such a letter and leave it lying around unsealed. I knew that it would be pounced upon and thought, "All right, let the fools gloat over it."

In the summer of 1947 I was given two weeks vacation. I went to Vice Consul Sorokin and asked for permission to go to Niagara Falls. It was unthinkable for a Soviet teacher to take a trip without dispensation. For a natural science teacher to want to see one of the wonders of the world seemed reasonable enough.

Yet Sorokin suggested that I go in company with another colleague, Nikonova, who was likable though a Communist. This was agreeable, and I asked: "When can we leave?" He replied: "Tomorrow." I was happy.

Tomorrow came, and Nikonova arrived with the tidings that Valentina Orlova, one of the hellcats of our school, was to join our party in a day or so. That would make two Communists to watch me. I thought helplessly. The trip was again postponed until we were joined by an elderly teacher from the Washington school. Finally the little party took off.

NEW CHECK MADE

At Niagara Falls, where the museum interested me especially, the two Communist women ganged up on me to harass me at every step. In the course of the 27 months of serving as a teacher in the Soviet school this was the only trip I was allowed to take, and that under constant surveillance.

The regime grew more severe with the arrival of a special inspector from Russia by the name of Yarkin. He came on the same plane as Vishinsky, the deputy foreign minister, who was to appear before the United Nations. We were all called before Yarkin who was supposed to check our work and personnel, but I soon perceived that he was not an educator by profession.

He used all kinds of devices during his stay to engage me in conversation after school hours, but I would excuse myself with the plea that I had plenty of school work waiting for me at home.

One day Yarkin exclaimed: "Why can't we ever get together?" I replied that I was not interested in general political discussions. When he launched several times into denunciations of nearly everybody in the school, I recognized that he was an NKVD man. It was an old trick to get one to chime in with such denunciations. I saw that he was trying to have me incriminate myself.

MAKES MISTAKE

He had undoubtedly had a stack of reports on me. One incident comes to my mind which grew out of a discussion in the graduating class of what constitutes freedom of the press. I had stated my position as follows: "An artist, a poet, a writer must be absolutely free. He's not like a shoemaker who deals with material things only."

The following day I was called to the consulate which already was in possession of a report on my indiscretion. I was given a stern lecture on my deviation from "dialectical materialism" —the true Lenin-Stalin line. After that, I decided to keep my mouth shut whenever a controversial issue was brought up in class.

This did not deter me from repaying my persecutors in kind whenever they harped on the inferiority of American products and methods as compared with those of the Soviets. My landlord, for instance, the consulate secretary Porojniakov, would keep singing to me the praises of Russian sugar. "It's sweeter and harder," he would drum into my ears.

"But you don't understand chemistry," I finally threw at him. "They are simply different sugars. This American sugar is made of cane, ours of beets."

Whenever his wife Zoya berated American articles, I took pleasure in emphasizing American inventiveness.

"Take such an ordinary thing as a baby carriage," I pointed out to her once. "How smart of the Americans to add a strap to hold the baby in."

COSTLY OUTBURST

Zoya, who had a little girl, had removed the strap to make her baby carriage conform to Soviet style. "The idea of holding babies like puppies on a leash!" she sneered. Not long afterwards I went shopping with her for shoes on upper Broadway. We took the baby in the carriage with us, minus the strap. While we were trying on shoes inside the store, there was a terrific scream and uproar outside. Little Olechka had slipped out and fallen on the concrete sidewalk. Instantly a crowd had collected. By the time Zoya had soothed her baby and replaced it in the carriage, I spoke the last word:

"See, I told you those Americans are smart."

But Zoya, who was one of my NKVD shadows, had her vengeance. Some time later she provoked me by holding aloft before me and reading aloud from the anti-Communist Russian paper in New York an article dealing with the plight of the Russian DPs in Germany. I was so upset that I fell for the bait.

"Tell me," I cried out, "where were your Molotov and Vishinsky when millions of Russians were perishing without trial, without the right of appeal, and without a chance to beg for mercy? Is it any wonder that these hundreds of thousands of Soviet citizens and veterans prefer to be DPs than to go back to Soviet Russia on account of the regime?"

This outburst added dangerous fuel to the witch-hunt closing in upon me.

Cost Rise To Reduce Farm Gains

U. S. Experts See Lower Net Profit

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Mounting farm production costs already at record levels are expected today to narrow farmers' net incomes in 1949.

The Agriculture department made this prediction in an outlook report for next year in which it said producers probably will have to pay larger sums for labor, machinery, fertilizer, seed and other farming essentials.

Record 1948 crops have been produced but at a cost three times the pre-war average and on some the profit margin already is narrower than a year ago.

However, up to this point, farmers' net returns on their investment of time, labor and cash have risen more rapidly than costs.

The reason is two-fold: First, overall output has risen 30 percent since the pre-war years; second, prices of most farm products in the market place have skyrocketed. Here's how the department views the prospects for 1949:

COSTS RISING

"With costs for items other than feeds moving upward, and with somewhat lower prices for products sold in 1949, net farm income will be lower for the country as a whole."

Continuing high costs for labor, already between five and ten percent higher than a year ago, are predicted for the remainder of 1948 and 1949.

Machinery manufacturers who still have to catch up with a backlog of orders are expected to continue quoting high prices for their products next year. Prices last June averaged 15 per cent above a year ago and 59 percent above pre war.

As for fertilizer, agriculture officials think prices may go still higher than last spring when they were already fifty percent above pre-war.

Export Restrictions Eased On Iron, Steel By U. S.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Commerce department made it easier today for exporters to ship iron and steel to almost every country in the world, including Russia and her satellites.

The department, in a sweeping policy revision, abolished regulations which require iron and steel exporters to submit copies of their foreign orders and signed contracts in order to obtain export licenses.

In place of this so-called "documentary evidence," exporters will be required only to state in writing that they have these orders on hand and specify the selling price.

The action does not remove iron and steel from export control. Licenses still will be required for their shipment to the Russian bloc as well as every other country except Canada.

SEE OTHER CHANGES

Current exports average only about 420,000 tons a month and represent but a small fraction of this country's total steel and iron output.

Commerce officials also revealed that the department has under consideration the abolition of similar regulations on all other commodities in short supply and under export control.

Commerce experts said that today's order affects all 60 classes of iron and steel which require licenses — from raw pig iron to such finished products as plates, sheets, steel reinforcement bars and storage tanks. It does not include such steel refinements as freight cars, however.

A spokesman estimated privately that the move will save the department "hundreds of dollars" in manpower by simplifying the work of license officials now required to carefully check each foreign order and purchase contract.

Justice Department Operations Give Reminder of Old Ohio Gang

WASHINGTON—The sudden zeal of the Department of Justice to impugn Congressman Parnell Thomas, the chairman of the committee on un-American activities, with an insinuating announcement that he is being "investigated" brings from our Bolsheviki no such wail as they raise when any one from Harvard law is charged with questionable association. Being neither a Frankfurter plant in the State department nor a Hollywood hack too proud to deny allegedly treasonous intentions. Mr. Thomas is not one of those sensitive cases calling for extraordinary nobility and restraint.

The department of justice has grown more and more reminiscent of the Harding regime, and we sniff a nostalgic redolence of the ethics of that stout crew of patriots, the Ohio gang.

The New Deal must have been hoaxing us in the blackguard pamphlets and orations which held Harry M. Daugherty up to scorn, for the same department has been used for similar purposes as often as not since 1933. And negotiated justice has been stylish under the rule of the Harvard gang ever since the Second Louisiana Purchase.

Important cases have been selected for prosecution or adjustment, according to sensitive factors undefined by any law, after earnest consultations by and among the trustees of justice. The exact meaning of "policy" is still a fugitive from our political scientists, but the best speculative try that one may hear from frequenters of this mysterious memorial to forgotten standards of government is that "policy" and "politics" have much in common.

Even when a decision is made to put up a show of prosecution against some felonious ally of the party in power, the job may be messed up by some reliable muddler to guarantee that the accused accomplice will get away. The Louisiana cases were mere dry runs in preparation for the Kansas City jobs.

The mauling of the Brown-Bioff-Hollywood atrocities, in which all the preferred rascals got magnificent discounts in return for many personal and political generosities confirmed the new concept. And the Joe Fay and Ben Pross cases in Newark, both involving thieving unioneers and proteges of the party of humanity, have been lagniappe.

The Fay case is the most notorious failure of justice in the record of the department since the Grant administration. Fay was a brutal, defiant thug of the Roosevelt adherency.

He stole not only from thousands of Roosevelt's faceless constituents, but from the treasury as well. He robbed the treasury both by taxing public construction for his own lushing and wenching and by chiseling on his income tax on this loot.

Tom Clark, the last of the New Deal parade of attorneys general, was personally well familiar with Fay's nefarious doings, having carried on some prosecutions of Fay's subordinates in years gone.

Accident Fatal To Motorist

Roy Caldwell Dies In Shelby Hospital

Roy Caldwell, 39, of 94 East Sixth street, died in Shelby Memorial hospital yesterday afternoon of injuries suffered when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge on Bowman street road at 12:05 a. m. Tuesday.

Caldwell was the 18th traffic victim of the year in the county and the ninth Mansfielder to lose his life in mishaps in 1948. Fourteen persons had died in the county's traffic mishaps at this same time last year.

State highway patrolmen said Caldwell, at first believed only slightly injured, died of internal injuries and a crushed chest. He also suffered a fractured left arm and body abrasions.

Peter Hughes, 315½ North Main street, believed the driver of the car, was reported in fair condition today at Memorial hospital. Hughes suffered head lacerations and abrasions of both legs and arms.

RAMS BRIDGE

Patrolmen said it was believed Hughes attempted to cross the narrow bridge, located about 11 miles north of Mansfield, as another car entered the bridge. The bridge is not lighted.

Born in Forrest City, Ark., Caldwell came to Mansfield three years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Henrietta of Mansfield; his mother, Mrs. Mariah Caldwell of Gary, Ind.; six brothers, Will, Orea and Herbert Caldwell of Gary; Aaron Caldwell of Forrest City; and Albert and Charles Caldwell of Chicago; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Allen and Mrs. Mae Frances King of Gary, and Mrs. Luberta Nesbitts and Mrs. Florence Nesbitts of Champaign, Ill.

Hemoved to the Geiger funeral home, the body was taken today to Little's funeral home in Gary, Ind., for services and burial.

Larger Blood Bank Urged

Donald Jones, who is field representative for blood service of the Eastern area of the National Red Cross, talked to members of the Richland county board of directors when they met at the chapter house yesterday.

Jones emphasized that the proposed National Blood Donor Service, expected to be launched this fall, will be a community activity and not just one for Red Cross officials.

"Everybody will have to cooperate," Jones said, "in order to make this program a success and have a blood bank that will meet the community's needs."

Announcement was made by Frank Elias, chapter chairman, that L. L. Mishey is the new disaster chairman succeeding Allen Bond. Sam Campbell will continue as vice chairman of the group.

18 Escape Injury In Bus-Car Mishap

Eighteen persons, including 16 passengers of a Greyhound bus, escaped injury shortly after noon yesterday when the bus struck a car and telephone pole near Home road on U. S. Route 30-S.

State highway patrolmen said the bus, driven by Donald Maddock of Pittsburgh, glanced off the rear of the car, driven by William Parmalee, 1478 Park ave west, when Parmalee attempted a left turn into his driveway.

Salvation Army Proves Haven

Gives Stories Happy Endings

A letter Mrs. William Jones of the Salvation Army received one day this week wrote a happy ending to a story which began several months ago in the office of the barracks.

A Richland county young woman, employed in Mansfield, recounted to Mrs. Jones the age-old tale, a courtship, promises of marriage, and the shock of learning the man was already married. Her baby was due in about four months, and she had consulted no doctor, had no close relatives from whom she could ask help. And, most surprising of all to Mrs. Jones, she wanted to keep the baby with her after its birth.

The mother-to-be had a small savings but not enough to pay for hospital and doctor bills. Arrangements were made immediately for the young women to enter a Salvation Army Maternity home in a nearby city.

For several months she enjoyed the hospitality of the home, where weekly she visited the home's beauty shop, aided in light housework tasks, such as dusting and keeping her room clean, had on short sight-seeing trips about the city with several other prospective mothers at the home, under the supervision of Home personnel.

The letter to Mrs. Jones described in detail the excellent treatment accorded her both before and after the birth of her baby, a boy.

She has now obtained a job in another town, near Mansfield, has found a pleasant room in a private home, where the baby is cared for during her working hours, and is happier than she has been for a long time, she explained to Mrs. Jones.

Both Major and Mrs. Jones would like to have such happy endings for all their cases, and work unceasingly toward that goal.

HOMELESS GET AID

At the present time, homeless men and women and stranded families make up the bulk of their problems. There was the mother, accompanied by her daughter, who hitch-hiked to Mansfield to visit her only son, an inmate of Ohio State reformatory. There was no money for lodging or meals, so the two applied for aid at the Salvation Army where they were given a room for the night and providid with supper and a hearty breakfast before returning to their home in the southern part of the state.

COMFORT FOR THE TROUBLED—When things go wrong, the Salvation Army stands ready with sympathy and help for those who find their problems too big for them to solve.

There are the families, parents with four or five children, motoring from one town to another, arriving in Mansfield late at night with no sleeping accommodations, so they are given lodging at the Salvation Army.

Another family, enroute to their home in southern Ohio after a short period of employment in another state, were stranded in Mansfield for about three days while their ancient car was being repaired. A telegram to relatives brought the necessary money for car repairs, but food and lodging were given free of charge at the Salvation Army.

Several weeks ago a young couple knocked at the door of the Salvation Army late at night. With them were their two children, ages two and five, both crying from weariness and hunger. The father had been employed as a laborer in a Pennsylvania city, but the job was terminated, rent was past due and they were evicted, so one day when they could see no solution to their problems, they packed their meager belongings in their old truck and headed for Ohio, and Mansfield where friends had told them there were plenty of jobs.

BED FOR CHILDREN

The first thing Mrs. Jones did was help the mother get the children fed and ready for bed, then the parents were given a warm meal while plans for the next day were discussed.

Another happy ending was written to this story too, according to Major Jones, for the next day, while Mrs. Jones cared for the two youngsters, the father not only found a job here, but the mother managed to find furnished rooms in which to live. While Major Jones has not heard from the family since then, he believes this young couple may have taken the first step to better opportunities.

The Salvation Army is one of 12 Red Feather agencies supported by the Mansfield Community Chest, whose 1948 drive for funds opens next Monday.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Lewis F. Hartman, who passes another milestone today, had a pre-birthday celebration last week when he and Mrs. Hartman went to New York City. Today's observance will be a quiet one with the Hartmans and their two children having dinner at home, 487 Edgewood road, with the usual decorated birthday cake and gift. Hartman has been with the Hartman Electric company here since 1935, following his graduation from Cornell university. He's a Rotarian and a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Hartman

Also receiving congratulations today is Emerson Weller, who will observe the day quietly at home. Weller, who is retired after more than 35 years of association with Mansfield business life, will probably go out to his farm, his current hobby. He also plays golf. Weller was secretary-treasurer of the Perfect Rubber company for eight years prior to his retirement in 1936. Before that he had been secretary-treasurer of the Hartman-Spreng company and later headed the National Electric company for eight years. His home is at 383 Overlook road.

CLASSES PLANNED—

Mothers with small children in school are seeking first aid classes during the morning and afternoon school hours, according to Gerald Coron, first aid and water safety director for the Red Cross. "Several have already called in asking about the class," Coron said, "and we would like to have all those interested contact the chapter house. Classes will be held from 9 to 11 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m. for mothers who can't come to evening classes." In addition to Coron, who will supervise the course, there will be eight volunteer instructors for this winter's program of first aid.

THANKFUL—

"We don't know how to thank Mansfielders enough," Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heiffner of Pinhook said today as they tearfully expressed their heart-felt thanks for the generosity of Mansfield residents who set the couple and their four children back on their feet after the Heiffners lost their home in a fire, Sept. 15. Taken up by the Volunteers of America, their case was publicized in The News-Journal and brought truckloads of furniture and clothing as a result. The Heiffners, now temporarily residing with the Harvey Hall family on Route 603 near Perrysville, still need a house and a steady job for the father who is a teamster by trade. The four children are now enrolled in Perrysville schools. Anyone knowing of a house for the family, or who can offer a steady job to the father, is urged to write in care of the Hall residence.

Garage Space Limited

Need For New Building Cited

By SHELDON BINN

More than half of the city's vehicles, representing an investment of approximately $100,000, are going to remain outside in the snow and ice again this winter.

The city does not have the money needed to construct a central garage for street, water, sewer, park and garbage department vehicles, and with prices rising, a council spokesman indicated that he wasn't too certain that the money would be available next year either.

Earlier this year, a delegation of department heads took several members of council on a brief tour of the city, pointing out three locations that might be used for the construction of a garage at an approximate cost of $200,000.

They Suggested construction of a garage at the sewage treatment plant, at the site of the North Main street pumping station or on North Main street, at Longview avenue.

At present the city's vehicles are stationed as follows:

Five sewer department trucks and two sewer cleaners are outside at the sewage treatment plant, exposed to the elements 24 hours a day, all year.

4 TRUCKS HOUSED

Four garage department trucks are housed at the North Main street pumping station that has been converted into a garage. The other five are left outside.

Six of the street department's 10 trucks are kept outside in addition to two road graders, a street flusher, stone spreaders and snow plows.

The three park department and six water department vehicles have inside garage facilities.

A department head explained that from the point of view of efficiency and both short and long term economy, the city needs a garage. The issue has been pushed around and stymied, ostensibly because of a lack of funds.

Besides shortening the period of usefulness of the motorized equipment, failure to have a garage and service center has other disadvantages, a city spokesman said. He cited these:

1. With many of the vehicles serviced by commercial service stations, no central supervision is possible.

2. Having the work performed in that manner is uneconomical. It would be far wiser to have a mechanic hired by the city do all the work. There is a master mechanic stationed at the North Main street pumping station garage who services the trucks that are housed there.

3. By forcing the truck drivers to purchase gas from commercial filling stations, the city loses money that might be saved if gasoline were purchased in wholesale lots.

3. Valuable working time is lost because vehicles cannot be serviced and repaired at night. In other words, crews are immobilized when vehicles break down and must while away working day time while their vehicle is being repaired.

Both Parties Open Campaign Offices

Republican headquarters were opened yesterday in the old Majestic theater building on North Walnut street, just south of West Fourth street.

Mrs. Glenn C. Young is in charge and will distribute campaign literature and answer questions on the campaign, Ralph Hardy, chairman of the Republican executive committee announced.

Hardy said the phone number is 3789-6. He said the hours would be from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and that later the office will be open during evenings.

Democratic headquarters at 19½ North Main street, with Russel W. Moore in charge, were opened Monday and will be open daily and evenings.

About 50 representatives of Democratic organizations, farm and labor groups in the 17th district met last night at the home of Attorney Robert W. Levering in Mt. Vernon, to make plans to promote his campaign.

Levering is running for Congress against J. Harry McGregor, of West Lafayette, Republican.

The group decided on a mail and personal call campaign on behalf of Levering, a World War II veteran. Levering will be in Richland county all next week in the interests of his campaign.

The Democrats will start firing their major ammunition Friday night when Senator Scott W. Lucas, of Illinois talks in John Simpson school auditorium.

Frank J. Lausche, candidate for governor, speaks on Oct. 22 at a luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The only other rally scheduled at present is a Republican rally at Shelby, Oct. 22 when Congressman McGregor will speak. Both parties plan more rallies, but have not set the dates.

2 More Parent Teacher Units Endorse School Bond Issue

Two more Mansfield Parent-Teacher associations last night voted full endorsement of the proposed $2,250,000 school bond issue.

Sixty members of the Newman P-TA voted unanimously to support the proposed issue, following a talk on the issue by Dr. Edwin Fensch. Members also voted a cash donation toward helping in paying the expenses incurred in presenting the issue to Mansfield voters.

The program included a talk by Mrs. Fances Hypes, supervisor of Mansfield's school cafeterias.

Room prize for parent attendance was won by the pupils of Miss Marie Hoover.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments typical of those served the purpils at the school cafeteria were served to the parents.

At the "get-acquainted" meeting for members of the West Fifth P-TA last night, with Mrs. Jane Heilman presiding, W. W. Blauser, school principal, introduced H. J. Dotson, principal of John Simpson Junior high, who spoke on the school bond issue.

Following his talk, members of the P-TA not only endorsed the issue but also gave a donation toward expenses in putting the issue across.

The program, in charge of Miss Leona Snyder, Miss Clara Patton and Miss Irene Hutzleman, included a talk by Harry Mehock on school recreation in the city and games for the parents, led by Mehock.

The room taught by Mrs. Evelyn Kipp won a book for having the most parents in attendance.

Refreshments were served from a Hallowe'en decorated table, with Mrs. J. L. George, Miss Gladys Fox, Miss Snyder and Miss Patton in charge.

A western calculator presents information to the effect that a billion one-dollar bills piled one on top of another would make a stack 59.3 miles high—but who'd want to go to all that trouble?

Now that the baseball season has officially ended, there is nothing to distract attention from next Saturday's football games—except possibly that the Berlin crisis is still boiling and that election day is coming along fast.

Mansfield Has Outgrown Postoffice

A CLOSE-UP of Mansfield's immediate and prospective needs for greatly increased postoffice space and facilities was presented in a talk given at yesterday's Rotary club meeting by Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford—a talk, by the way, which should be heard by other civic, service and study clubs, because of its informational value.

When it is taken into account that Mansfield's present federal building has served since 1914, and that it was designed to meet the demands of a much smaller city with relatively little requirement for the variety of services that have since been added, the urgency of increasing space and modernizing facilities and equipment becomes apparent to all who realize the volume of business handled and the difficulties encountered in performing required services.

This situation was recognized a number of years ago when adjoining land to the east was purchased and cleared, in preparation to enlarge the present postoffice building, but the war required postponement of this project, and present government policy is to defer building expenditures except in cases of emergency.

While some improvements in the old postoffice building are in prospect, with a view to giving temporary relief of the overcrowded condition, it is apparent that a more comprehensive program of betterment must be kept in mind for the not distant future—and that a display of lively local interest will be conducive to expediting action by the postoffice department.

Driven To Theft By Gambling Losses

IT COULD happen anywhere — but this time it happened in Milwaukee, where a 42-year-old lawyer broke into tears as he related how he had gambled away thousands of dollars entrusted to him by clients, after he had become afflicted with what he called "the horse-race betting disease."

At the district attorney's office, where he confessed his defalcations, the repentant attorney said: "First I bet and lost everything I had. Then I lost everything I could borrow. Finally I lost everything I could steal."

There's an investigation of gambling going on in Milwaukee county, and the attorney's story becomes a part of the record, although it appears that his losses were sustained in Chicago, not in his home town, where he had been enjoying a good law practice until he was bitten by the gambling bug.

Now he says regretfully: "If I could only turn back the pages of my life and resume those happy years in the late thirties . . . I hope that those who are still afflicted with the horse betting 'disease' learn a lesson from my sad experience."

But horse race betting is not the only form in which gambling attains the proportions of a "disease" — as is recognized by laws of states and cities, including Ohio and Mansfield. But in some instances — as in Mansfield — the pressure exerted on officials by persons profiting by illegal gambling operations is stronger than that exerted by supporters of law enforcement, with the result that wide-open gambling of various sorts continues without police interference.

Safety Rules For Bicycle Riders

MORE AND MORE attention is being paid to the danger involved when children ride bicycles in the midst of motor traffic and the National Safety Council has issued a list of rules for bicycle safety which parents should impress upon every child who rides either a pedal-propelled or motor-equipped two-wheeler.

Here are those rules; with the suggestion that they be directed to the attention of every child who rides a bicycle:

Use arm signals, the safety council advises, to warn those behind you that you intend to slow down, stop or turn.

Don't hitch to moving vehicles of any kind.

Ride single file on the extreme right of the road. Riding abreast or weaving in and out of traffic slows vehicles, confuses motorists and boosts chance of accident, says this safety rule.

Don't carry passengers on the crossbar, handle-bar or fender.

Have a dependable headlight on the front of the bicycle and a clean reflector on the rear for night riding.

Don't bike on the sidewalk when there are pedestrians or playing children. Dismount and walk your bicycle around them.

Ten-Year Recovery Plan Advised

A MOVEMENT is on foot in Europe to plan recovery on the basis of a ten-year period, instead of conforming the program to the space of time allotted to the working out of the Marshall Plan.

The Organization for European Economic Co-operation, under whose auspices the program will be forthcoming, believes that the united efforts engendered by the United States Economic Co-operation Administration will be fruitful long after the cessation of the funds granted under it.

Another point is that many projects now under way cannot possibly be brought to a point of full production in the space of four years. These projects are such as involve construction from the ground up before production can be started.

Any time limit tends to act as a hampering agent in work involving overall production, but at the same time some such goal is important to give the worker a mark to shoot at. The ten-year plan may avoid the discouragement which is apt to result from a time-limit too short for results to show.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

'Vinson Mission' Idea Shows Weakness

CLEVELAND — Last Sunday, as this reporter, with more than 86,000 other dazed and saddened world series customers, turned his steps up the long hill from the stadium, he heard a great deal about over-confidence. The city of Cleveland, in full anticipation of ending the series with trimmings of brass bands and street dancing, was over-confident. So were the Indians. But Feller slipped, and excellent Braves' management won.

If Dewey were running against a Roosevelt, the over-confidence of Republicans at this stage might defeat him. But apparently our harassed President can do nothing but supply more and more confidence for Republicans.

His abortive Vinson mission to Moscow supplies a vivid object lesson in why Dewey, despite lack of campaign color and excitement, has such a lead over Truman. We have witnessed once more an illustration of bad management—bad administration. And Dewey, who does not deny the general objectives of the Roosevelt regime, is really running as a successful executive.

The President's own explanation of why he dropped the Vinson idea reveals what is wrong with his capacity as a chief executive. He didn't know his idea was loaded. He had to go back to Washington, bringing Marshall over the sea to be told about goings on in Paris before he realized that his plan was bad.

* * *

Unfortunate Experiment.

AFTER he had tried to emulate his successful predecessor, Roosevelt, by pulling a rabbit out of the hat, he found that the only way he could get the rabbit out was to destroy the hat.

No doubt his plan if carried out, would have caused the resignation of his secretary of state and of the steady, reliable, Under-Secretary Robert Lovett who, incidentally, took the job only because Marshall insisted upon it.

So we have now had two examples of lack of capacity on the President's part to keep in step with his own subordinates. When Wallace, while a cabinet member made his unfortunate Russian speech which the President approved without reading, Secretary of State Byrnes was, like Marshall now, in close contact with representatives of other nations in Paris. Outraged by this lack of teamwork, Byrnes threatened to resign, and the President fired Wallace.

Dewey's insistence on administrative efficiency is in sharp contrast to Truman's hit-or-miss management. When I visited the Dewey train three weeks ago, the infinitely detailed precautions in the foreign relations field were apparent.

Telephone contact with Dewey's representative in Paris, John Foster Dulles, was constantly maintained. Calls came in practically every day. Moreover, to improve this channel of information, Dewey carried with him on the train Allen Dulles, brother of John Foster. Allen is, like his brother, a trained international lawer and a grandson of an able secretary of state, John W. Foster.

Thus, skill, training and close personal relations—all of which are marks of good administration—were taken into account and practiced.

The above comment is not concerned with the danger to foreign affairs involved in Truman's proposal. That has been abundantly pointed out. Nor does it suggest the political ineptness of Truman's hasty plan. It is merely to point out once more the importance of plain administrative competence. Our ideals may shine in the sky, but our practical procedures on the ground must be efficient and effective.

Washington Calling

Identifying Communists

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — While the evidence increases from day to day to show that Henry Wallace's third party is losing strength, there remains a core of Wallace followers who will vote the third ticket. The great majority of these faithful followers are neither communists nor fellow-travelers.

Many of them are church people and convinced Pacifists, who believe that the last and only hope for a peaceful settlement with the Soviet Union is through Wallace. Still others, with faith almost as blind see Wallace as the true inheritor of the Roosevelt New Deal.

A number of letters from these true believers have come to me in recent weeks.

Some of them are angry letters, some of them express hurt surprise that anyone of liberal beliefs should say that the Wallace party is communist-dominated.

This is an effort to answer those letters. It is an attempt to set out as clearly as possible the reasons why it is difficult or impossible, without willfully shutting one's eyes to the facts, to escape the conclusion that the third pary is dominated and manipulated by communists and slavish fellow-travelers.

First, what is a communist? There are various long and complicated definitions having to do with ideologies. For the purpose of the present controversy it seems to me that an immediate and practical definition is the following:

A communist is one who has consistently held that Russia is right in everything Russia does and the United States is wrong in everything the United States does.

The best test under this definition is the attitude of the individual between August of 1940 and June 22, 1941. Beginning with the Soviet-Nazi pact, the official line was that the war was merely a struggle between rival imperialisms. After the German attack on June 21, 1941, it became a battle for freedom and democracy.

Any American who echoed that line is in my book a communist or a fellow-traveler who happens to be cheating the party out of its dues by not carrying a card.

* * *

Support of Definition.

THIS definition, incidentally, is more or less clearly spelled out in the latest communist doctrine from top authority in Moscow. In essence, Tito's crime is that he put his own country, Yugoslavia, just a little ahead of the Soviet Union.

With this as a definition, here are the reasons why it seems to me an inescapable conclusion that the third party is communist-dominated.

1. Most of the men and women in key positions around Wallace have consistently echoed the Soviet line, sometimes both publicly and privately, for the past decade or longer. They switched when Russia's interests switched.

2. In his own speeches Wallace has consistently attacked the U. S. and defended Russia. His justification is that he feels the need to correct the balance since so many loud and angry attacks are being aimed at the Russians. He has, however, gone far beyond that and especially in his West Coast tour.

3. The Communist party in this country and all its branches and stooge organizations have gone all out for the third party. This would not be possible without direction from Moscow.

4. The platforms of the Communist party and the third party bear striking similarities. They both oppose the Marshall Plan and other foreign aid measures intended for the reconstruction of Western Europe.

5. The active opposition to Wallace by most of his former New Deal associates and by labor leaders such as Philip Murray. These men have come to recognize the real objective of Russian communist intrigue and they regard Wallace as a tragic prisoner.

This list could be considerably extended. But it seems to me that anyone who looks at these facts, and they are indisputable facts, cannot help but see Wallace in the grim light of reality. This realization is certainly one of the reasons for his declining popularity.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ferguson Loses 'Great Prosecutor' Role

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan first came to Washington, he was widely acclaimed as the great prosecutor. This reputation now is sadly tarnished.

For though Homer heads one of the most important investigating sub-committees of the Senate, it begins to look as if he runs in the opposite direction when either he or his friends get their toes slightly stepped on.

After Senator Thomas of Oklahoma wrote Ferguson a letter threatening to expose certain extracurricular activities, Ferguson promptly dropped the Thomas probe.

Ferguson, of course, denies this, says he still is investigating. And here is something else he will doubtless deny, too:

In the spring of 1947, the senator from Michigan had a young army of sleuths digging into the Preston Tucker automobile scandal. Word from the Ferguson committee was that sensational developments were just around the corner. A big story would develop.

But it never did. Ferguson dropped the whole thing. His sleuths closed up the Tucker books and went on to other things. It was quite mysterious.

* * *

Big G. O. P. Politician.

NO adequate explanation ever was given, but here are some interesting facts which took place in May and June 1947 just as Ferguson dropped the Tucker probe.

At about this time, Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, popular, efficient ex-Republican national committeewoman from Michigan, and her husband were paid $17,850 by the auto man being probed by Ferguson—namely Preston Tucker.

Mrs. Hay had been a friend of Ferguson's. She was at that time not only G. O. P. committeewoman, but secretary of the Republican national committee, and had long been influential in Michigan politics.

There was nothing illegal about Mrs. Hay and her husband receiving this money, since they are not government officials—though it is highly interesting.

The first money they received was $7,000 in cash. Tucker's paymaster, explaining the payment, said that Tucker had come to him late one evening for some cash which he said he needed to pay some politicians to stop the Senate investigation of the Tucker plant.

Mrs. Hay made five trips to Washington during May and June 1947, just at the time Senator Ferguson seemed about to begin public hearings on the Tucker corporation.

Records of the Statler hotel show that she registered there from May 9 to 11, and on May 10 called Ferguson's secret phone number, Ordway 3085. Not many people had this private number.

Mrs. Hay came back to Washington, May 15-16, and again the hotel record shows she called the Capitol several times. She returned on May 31, remaining until June 5, and on June 1 called Ferguson's secret number twice.

On June 11, Mrs. Hay came back again, remaining until June 13, during which time the hotel records show that twice she called Ferguson's private number. Tucker was in Washington at the same identical time.

Several Tucker employes state that at about this time he told them he had employed a political figure in Michigan to call off the Ferguson committee and that "it was the best money he ever spent."

Whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Hay were employed by Tucker to do this job, the fact is that the Ferguson probe of Tucker suddenly stopped.

At that time the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Justice department also were investigating Tucker and they reported that Ferguson's agents were so busy at the Tucker plant it looked as if the Senate probe would get started long before the government could finish its work.

That was one year and a half ago. Meanwhile the Ferguson probe never has come off. The justice department is shortly calling a grand jury in Chicago to get to the bottom of Mr. Tucker's unusual activities—but, for reasons best known to the senator from Michigan, he changed his mind about this scandal which already has cost the investing public around $20,000,000.

Banks Shun G. I. Loans.

UNLESS banks start loosening up on home loans to veterans, Congress may take these loans away from private enterprise and put the government in the direct loan business.

This was threatened the other day in a blunt, but unofficial, warning to the financial trade by Wisconsin's G. O. P. Senator Joe McCarthy, vice chairman of the joint congressional housing committee.

But even as McCarthy took his stand, the Federal Reserve System was sending out notices to member banks to cut down on home loans as a deflationary measure.

This will virtually put an end to G. I. loans, since banks have been turning down most veterans anyway in favor of loans with higher interest rates.

In many cases, this has been a deliberate squeeze play to force up the interest rates on G. I. loans. An increase from 4 to 4½ per cent is permitted by law, provided it is approved by the secretary of the treasury and the Veterans Administration or Federal Housing Administration — whichever agency guarantees the loans. This new provision in the law was inserted this year by Congress to encourage banks to make G. I. loans. It has had the opposite effect.

Assignment: America

Says Hatch Act Ignored

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—At first, there was not a great deal of consternation over the announcement — but gradually, the word has sifted around the capital that maybe the congressman was serious. And it has the ghosts all a-twitter.

The congressman in question is Forest A. Harness, a somewhat outspoken Republican from Kokomo, Indiana. He is a member of the House committee on expenditures in the executive department, and heads that group's subcommittee on publicity and propaganda.

(At this point, it should be made clear that the subcommittee's assigned duty is not to put out publicity and/or propaganda, but rather to concern itself with such efforts on the part of the executive departments.)

Recently, during the hotter phases of the current election campaign, Congressman Harness called reporters into his office. He said he had a statement to make.

The statement charged that various people within the executive agencies had been utilized, "sometimes unwittingly," in turning out political speeches "and other propaganda" for the Democrats in the campaign.

The congressman asserted that government reports were being given what he termed "political twists," and that public relations staffs in particular were being used to turn out campaign material.

And, furthermore, the congressman planned to do something about it.

"My committee has been gathering evidence of such activities and will continue to do so," he said. "Those employes who are found to have engaged in the preparation of political speeches and other propaganda in violating of federal law will be exposed by my committee and referred to the proper prosecuting office for summary action."

* * *

He Has 'Em Worried.

THE LAW to which Harness referred was the well-known Hatch Act which forbids federal employes to engage in political activity, and which, in some cases, provides for criminal prosecution of violators.

"Some of the violations have been flagrant," Harness said later to a reporter. He added that he felt that some of the "bitterest and most unfair statements and speeches to come out of the present campaign have been those prepared and distributed by federal employes at the taxpayers' expense."

He went on to say that he had instructed his subcommittee staff to keep a sharp lookout for what he called "this type of violation," and that whatever was discovered would be turned over to the civil service commission and to the department of justice.

Harness told this correspondent that he was particularly concerned with the fact that the public is paying, in the form of federal salaries, for a large part of what he called the "campaign show."

This, he said, he intended to stop, and he issued a warning to all federal employes thus engaged that, since they could lose their jobs and be prosecuted for such activities, they'd better keep "their eyes open" if they continued doing what they were doing.

All of which, as was mentioned previously, created no particular consternation at first.

For one thing, while the Hoosier lawmaker was completely correct in his references to the Hatch Act, he was the first public official to apply it — with such seriousness, at least — to the matter of ghost-writing campaign speeches.

But some of his contemporaries on Capitol Hill have grown a bit worried of late, as the grapevine has brought word to them that the congressman meant what he said.

For they realize that if he investigates the executive ghost-writers, it is inevitable that the legislative behind-the-scene word merchants soon will get equal attention.

And the taxpayer foots both bills.

Farmer's Diary

Wasteful Muddy Waters

By CALVIN A. BYERS

WHOEVER has stood at the foot of a furrow on a rainy day and watched the stream of water move from the hilly field until soon it covers his bare feet ankle deep with a broad fan of silt, knows the facts about water erosion. Wind and water, "twin sextons" of the graveyard that is the earth, says Paul B. Sears, in Deserts On the March.

Muddy water is largely a product of civilization. Forest streams and pools are clear—so are the rills that trickle from grass-covered hills, and even the melting glaciers are not roily. But rain that falls upon cultivated fields—especially fields of corn, in our section here—is apt to wash away a great part of the soil fertility unless farming methods are adapted to catch and keep the run-off.

There is not much that is good to say about muddy water. It kills the best fish in the streams; it keeps out the sunshine, and so all aquatic plants suffer; it carries away the farmer's land to the sea, leaving his fields gullied and rock-strewn and bare.

Such farms are soon abandoned, or sold for taxes—the people move away—Nature takes over and begins the long slow process of natural reclamation.

Another angle. The food that grows on ever-depleting soil becomes unfit for human food. It lacks some of the minerals that are necessary for health and strength, so that disease increases because folks are too undernourished to withstand it. Some diseases are caused by "something you've et"—some by something you didn't eat!

Two Canadian doctors have come out with a cure for heart trouble—simply vitamin E capsules taken by mouth. Vitamin E is found in the germ of grain, the skins of fruits and vegetables—parts very often discarded from modern diet as unfit for human food.

Food is not a farm problem only—although farmers are notorious for feeding their livestock better than they feed their families. Isn't it common sensible to believe that if hogs and cattle need "supplements" added to their home-grown rations, people may need the same? If goiter comes from lack of iodine, and Bang's disease is cured by plants grown on soil with cobalt in it, what shall we feed the world to make all the people outlaw war?

This erosion problem goes deeper than just the muddy waters. It strikes at the very basis of all growth. Even the spiritual powers depend upon adequate food . . . brain power depends upon rations—perhaps even crime is largely caused by unbalanced nutrition, over a period of years.

"However high the spirit of man may soar, the stomach controls the flight."—John Hodgdon Bradley.

Glutted Market Could Be Costly

'Dollar Corn' Possible, Farmers Warned

"Dollar corn" is a definite possibility, the Richland county Agricultural Adjustment Administration office warns, if corn gluts the market this fall.

Farmers are urged by the Triple-A office to take advantage of the loan rate of $1.50 per bushel for 1948 corn, a reprecentation of 90 per cent of parity as of Oct. 1, 1948.

Farmers may apply for loans at the County Triple-A office, 55 North Diamond street, any time between harvest and June 30, 1949. Only corn meeting requirements of the Commodity Credit Corporation and stored on farms will be eligible for loans.

All bins and cribs in which corn is stored must be approved by the county committee. They must have good roofs, sound floors, and a width not greater than that recommended for safe storage.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Agriculture department warned farmers that their favorable financial status "could deteriorate rapidly" when the crest of inflation passes.

In a comprehensive report on farm finances, the Bureau of Africultural Economics says:

"It is not too early to ask what farmers can do to preserve the generally solvent and effective economic position they now occupy.

HARD TO CONTROL

"Once prices begin to decline or to shift in relation to one another, there is little that individual farmers can do to stop them."

The Bureau advises farmers to so conduct their affairs that a drop in prices will bring a minimum of trouble to them and the nation.

"Such management will emphasize caution in buying land, machinery and livestock when prices are high and in incurring new debts at inflated levels of income and prices," it says.

"It will use a considerable proportion of the high income of prosperous years to reduce outstanding debt, increase the efficiency of farm facilities and accumulate financial reserves that will help farmers to adjust their operations to later needs."

Push Wage Boost Drive

City policemen and firemen, campaigning for a 29-to-45 per cent wage increase, will begin distributing campaign cards and car bumper streamers at the end of the week, Paul Martin, police identification officer, announced today.

Martin, who is chairman of the joint police-fire wage committee, said 5,000 cards and 100 car streamers have been prepared.

The campaign card, printed in blue, says:

"The police and firemen are always ready to serve you at a moment's notice in any emergency. We will appreciate your vote for the . . . salary ordinance."

The safety division workers successfully campaigned to have the wage ordinance put on the Nov 2 ballot after city council failed to act on requests made as early as November of last year.

Pioneer Plant Votes Dividend

WILLARD—On Oct. 15, the 50 stockholders of the Pioneer Rubber company will receive a dividend of 25 cents per share, which was voted upon and approved by the board of directors.

Walter Frederick, assistant treasurer of the company, reports that Pioneer is now rated as AAA1 in Dunn & Bradstreet.

LaVern Pagel, superintendent in charge of production, said that the company has recently completed courses of study for their foremen, to carry out more efficient methods of production. John Wilkinson of Attica has been elected a director to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of K. L. Milligan of Vero Beach, Fla.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, October 14.

A DIFFICULT or involved state of affairs affecting business interests finances and credit, as well as home and purely personal objectives and desires, is read from the current sidereal setup. Property and possessions, business as well as home assets, are in the balance, probably due to carelessness or negligence, with unhappy reactions and probable grief to the standing and reputation. Fortunately the mind is pitched in serious grooves, with inclination toward reflection and capacity for analysis and reasoning, with eventual practical issues and sound organization.. Diplomacy, tact and persistent effort win out.

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves confronted by some static or strange situation in which property, possessions, credit and reputation are at stake. Safeguard all home assets, position and standing, with particular concern for purely personal interests. Fortunately the mentality is channeled to the serious and profound with a practical slant on affairs, with keen power for analysis and rationalization. Supplement this by diplomacy, tact and the friendly approach rather than any show of forced issues.

A child born on this day has a keen mind, with friendly personal ability.

Kaiser-Beach Nuptial Rite Held Oct. 9

St. Peter's rectory was the scene of the marriage of Joan Louise Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kaiser, 51 Lexington avenue, to Richard D. Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Beach, 1072 Lucas road, Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

The Rev. Father Richard Mormon officiated at an altar bedecked with ferns.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beige suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Anton Schwartz, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a green suit with black accessories, and a corsage of white rosebuds. The bride's mother wore a brown suit with matching accessories, and a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Best man was Anton Schwartz, a friend of the groom.

An afternoon reception was held at the home of the bride. Approximately 100 guests attended including out-of-town guests from Toledo, Findlay, Detroit, Pennsylvania, Shelby, Tiro and Bucyrus.

Use Felt To Decorate

Adroit use of felt can work wonders in decorating your home.

Valuable information on the uses to which felt can be put as an aid to home decoration is contained in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Inexpensive glamor can be given a room by pasting electric-blue felt to a plywood window frame, and repeating it around a dressing table, the magazine points out.

Now that bright felts are back, you can give that old table a quick right-about-face in a hurry by adorning it with pink-felt fringed cloth cut in a circle. A green-felt seat on an old chair makes an excellent complementary piece.

A professional's touch for an amateur's hand may be achieved, and a guest-room given sitting room airs by grouping pictures on billiard-green felt mats over felt-upholstered beds.

VEAL ROAST WITH DRESSING — Special mid-week dinner is this rolled veal roast served with a tasty bread dressing. The homemaker preparing it has purchased enough for several meals, so there will be appetizing treats later on, too. The veal roll she has used is one which comes boned, rolled, frozen and covered with a smooth layer of creamy white fat. The fat bastes the meat during cooking and also provides the basis for a generous amount of flavorful gravy. The dressing on this plate is made with prunes, apricots, bread, margarine and seasoning. However, almost any flavorful meat or poultry stuffing would do. Roast it in a separate baking dish. Then cut it in squares to be placed around the roast.

Guest Meeting Held By Society

The home of Mrs. William Martin, 578 Westview boulevard, was the scene of the guest meeting for members of the Florence Welty Missionary society of the First Lutheran church Monday evening. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Harry Hollingsworth, Mrs. Harry McCullough and Mrs. L. E. Sharrock.

"Christian Frontiers" was the theme of the program with Mrs. Homer Beck and Mrs. Harold Boals in charge. They were assisted by Mrs. M. D. Harnly, Mrs. Robert Donnan and Mrs. Orville Kibler.

Mrs. Harnly, thank-offering chairman, presented little Maureen Ann Martin in a monologue on "Thank Offering." Mrs. Othear Holton, a charter member, was presented with a life membership.

Miss Marvel Wiegand, vice president, conducted the business session. Delegates were chosen for the coming central conference convention to be held at Zanesville, Oct. 18 and 19. A contribution for special aid for missionaries in the foreign field was given, to be presented at the convention.

Mrs. Arthur Grau was named chairman in charge of layettes for displaced persons in Europe.

Guests present were Mrs. Robert Hoeffler, Miss Helen Rantz, Mrs. John Eby, Mrs. Jay Long, Mrs. Lee Prior, Mrs. E. L. Zehrbach, Mrs. James Wareham, Mrs. G. P. Wiegand and Mrs. Carl Smith.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!

Many wise 'middle-age' women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.

Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

NOTE: Or you may prefer LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S TABLETS with added iron.

REV. FRANK L. FESPERMAN

When members of the Northwest Ohio Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church meets here Thursday, one of the speakers will be Rev. Frank L. Fesperman, a returned missionary from Japan.

Rev. Fesperman will speak at sessions in the St. John's Evangelical church beginning at 9 a. m. He also will address the School of Missions which is being conducted at the church on Wednesday and Friday.

Rev. Fesperman will arrive in time for the covered-dish supper Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. when the School of Missions is officially opened.

A missionary in Japan for 23 years, Rev. Fesperman also served in the Army as a chaplain assigned to transport duty in the South Pacific.

On Sept. 10, Rev. Fesperman returned from two months in Japan. He had accompanied a shipload of goats sent to the Orient by the Heifer Project committee, an interdenominational agency.

Piles Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.
Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Unbeaten Madison Plays Loudonville Friday

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

FROM THE MAIL BAG:

Mr. Fred Tharp,
Sports Editor.
Dear Sir:

In the most recent Saturepost there is a football article the central theme of which seems to be the "purity" of Lon Stiner and his Oregon Staters. Lon has been there 16 years during which time there have been 32 coaches in the other nine schools in the loop (according to the article), making a total of 33 coaches in 16 years.

Particularly in view of the alleged similarity between the codes in force in the two leagues, I wondered how the above would compare with the figures for the Big 9-10. Consulting my trusty records, I find that there have been 31 coaches in the Western Conference in the last 16 years, and, had Chicago stayed in the business, they might have had a change or so to make the agreement even more startling. The count for the time Ohio State has been a member is 70 coaches in the 35 years. I believe the Post article gave 2.77 years as the average tenure in the Pacific Coast Conference since it was formed in 1890; the above figures would mean a freckle over five years (recently) for the Coast and a trifle under five years for the Western Conference.

The Pacific Coast has not been very "similar," as regards games won from the Western Conference*, but they surely are in agreement as regards "fire the coach."

Yours very truly,
RICHARD W. PARSONS.

(*This season).

Dear Sir:

Would it be possible to round up any biographical data on a pitcher named BOHN who pitched for the Eclipse club of Louisville in 1882?

I understand in digging around that he was quite a celebrated athlete around Mansfield about that time and as one of the local athletes, I thought perhaps you could reveal his full name, date and place of birth and date and place of death. If he died in his home town, as many ball players do, perhaps the local Bureau of Vital Statistics might enable me to get a line on him or his family.

Trusting that you might be able to uncover this rather obscure player and thanking you in advance for any service you may be able to render in this matter, I remain

With kindest regards,
HY TURKIN.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Turkin is sports writer on the New York News. Any Mansfielder having information about Bohn could forward same to the News-Journal sports department. It will be passed on to Mr. Turkin.)

Ducats Available At Senior High For Tiger Game

There are some 25 tickets for the Mansfield-Massillon game, Oct. 22, left today.

George Sherman, ticket manager, announced that that many season tickets for the remaining four home games are on sale at Senior high. The 25 ducats will go on a first come basis. They are on the 20-yard line

Sherman estimates that he and other Tyger athletic officials have turned down more than 1,000 requests for Massillon tickets. Already 300 standing room tickets have been sold with 1,700 more ready for the advance sale.

No chairs or benches are planned at Arlin field for the game.

Tickets for the game at Springfield Friday night went on sale today at the high school and Moorhead's. The sale will extend until Friday at 10 a. m. Tickets are $1 for adults and a section of seats will be reserved for Mansfielders. Springfield officials request that Tyger fans be in their seats by 7:30 p. m.

Barons Take 28th Straight

(By International News Service)

The Cleveland Barons undefeated string still was alive today—and going strong.

The American hockey league champs, who wound up the 1947 season with a total of 27 straight games without a defeat, started the 1948 season on the right foot last night by routing Washington, 5-2, in their loop-opened in Washington.

In other openers last night, St. Louis trimmed Buffalo, 4-0, on St. Louis ice, and Pittsburgh dropped a 4-2 defeat to the Indians in Springfield.

Senior High On Road At Springfield

By CHARLEY STINE

A battle of two unbeaten teams—Madison and Loudonville—will feature this area's heavy football card Friday night.

The two teams are scheduled to collide head-on at Ram field in the only week-end game scheduled on Mansfield gridirons. Senior high school will journey to Springfield.

Madison will observe homecoming and the introduction of the new bleachers at the same time in the Loudonville game. Loudonville will bring its 70-piece marching band here for the game which will perform at half-time in conjunction with the 55-piece Madison corps.

TEN STRAIGHT

Madison has won ten straight football games including the last seven of the 1947 season. The Rams have made four starts this year, but light failure at Orrville halted the game in the fourth quarter.

Loudonville, boasting of a young team, has rolled easily over four opponents but has not met any stiff opposition.

Only common opponent of the two teams has been New London. Madison played the Wildcats first and beat them, 25-6, then Loudonville ran over them, 41-0. Much of the difference may have been made, however, by the fact that Ornie Close, New London's No. 1 back was injured in the fourth quarter of the Madison game and missed the complete tilt at Loudonville.

At Springfield, Senior high's Tygers will go after their fourth consecutive victory against a club which upset them last year. The Tygers have decisively turned back every Ohio opponent after losing the opener, 26-13, to Whiting, Ind. Springfield has won only one game.

TYGERS FAVORED

Rated sixth in Ohio by the Associated Press, the Tygers will be favored to take the Wildcats into camp. Springfield fell before Portsmouth, 20 to 19, and the Tygers blasted the Trojans, 33 to 0. However, Springfield's line will outweigh the Tygers some 20 pounds to the man and that might make a difference.

Outside of the games involving local teams, few Friday contests have any great importance. Probably bearing the most significance is the Bellville-Danville game on tap for Danville.

The game is a Mohican league contest, and Bellville needs the victory to gain the loop lead. It would be the third circuit victory for Bellville, which has won its first four games with ease.

Loudonville also won its first two Mohican loop contests and has another slated for later in the season. Loudonville and Bellville in the final game of the season.

HAVE BREATHER

Bucyrus' mighty Redmen, generally regarded as the best small school team in the state, will have a breather when they meet the Galion Tigers who are still looking for their first victory. Bucyrus has won four games while running up a 149-7 point advantage over opponents. The game is a Northern Ohio league contest.

Bellevue will play at Norwalk and Upper Sandusky at Willard in the other NOL games. Shelby will take time out from league play to go to Ashland while Crestline invades Tiffin Calvert.

New London, which won its first game in two years last week, will go after its second when it plays host to Vermillion while Mt. Gilead goes after its third win in five starts against Richwood.

Plymouth invades Carey while little Butler will make its debut in varsity competition at Ashley.

Cage Meeting

Members of the 1947 Yuncker Sports basketball team and tryouts will meet at the Yuncker store tomorrow at 7 p. m. Fred LaRue is manager of the team.

MANAGES YANKEES—Famed wherever baseball is played, Charles F. (Casey) Stengel is signed to a two-year contract as manager of the ex-champion New York Yankees, succeeding Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris who resigned recently. The famous Casey is abandoning a valuable Oakland, Cal., managerial connection with which he won the 1948 Pacific Coast league pennant. Cleveland Indians Relax By Playing Some Baseball

CLEVELAND—(AP)—With the toughest baseball grind in history finally behind them, some of the world champion Cleveland Indians are going to relax a bit by playing baseball.

That went today for such worthies as Bob Lemon, Walt Judnich, Steve Gromek and, probably Bob Kennedy. Pitcher Bob Lemon and Outfielder Judnich, both Californians, have west coast barnstorming plans. Pitcher Gromek and Outfielder Kennedy figure on some exhibition games around Detroit.

Even Satchell Paige, who must have been throwing knucklers when Hans Wagner was a rookie, checked out shortly after yesterday's hysterical victory parade and headed east.

His parting shot: "Gotta keep my arm loosened up, so I'll probably do some throwing during the barnstorming season."

ONE MORE FLING

Bob Feller is going to have one final fling. It will be in the annual homecoming game Saturday at his home town, Van Meter, La., then: "Fishing, hunting, golf and flying—that about takes care of my winter plans."

Most of the others, however, have seen enough bats and mitts for a while.

Joe Gordon, the old pro second baseman, will head later this week for Eugene, Ore., for hunting, fishing and spare time work in his hardware store. Third Baseman Ken Keltner plans to open a new bicycle shop in his home town Milwaukee. And Al Rosen, another third baseman, will sell insurance in Miami. Part of the time he expects to put in some turns as a radio sports announcer.

Outfielder Dale Mitchell isn't sure but he may return to the University of Oklahoma for further work toward a college degree. Pitcher Sam Zoldak will be job hunting in Elmora, N. Y., and Catcher Joe Tipton will be doing the same in McCaysville, Tenn.

Larry Doby, the Negro outfielder, figures on a nice rest back in Paterson, N. J., with some professional basketball possibly later on.

GOING TO MOVIES

The Indians have three glamor boys.

Johnny Bejardino utility infielder, of course, already is a familiar figure in Hollywood and expects to go back for some off-season acting. Lou Boudreau, the shortstop manager, has been offered a movie part as a fan—but he hasn't said much about it.

And Universal-International Pictures Corp. has suggested a screen test for Gene Bearden, the pitching sensation of the series, late this month.

If he gets the job, fine, says Bearden, but if it falls through he may go back as an electricians' assistant at a movie studio.

Should he become a part-time actor, however, Bearden has this guarantee:

"It definitely will not be a baseball picture. I think I've had enough to last me a while."

Court League Meeting Set For Tonight

Organization of independent basketball for the coming season will be begun at a meeting called for 7:30 this evening in the West Fourth street offices of City Recreation Director Stan Kamen.

Preliminary plans call for the formation of an eight-team Class A and a similar "B" circuit to replace the 12-club league of last year.

Kamen reports that nine teams have already signified their intention of applying for the Class A league while five others are expected to seek entry in the "B" circuit. He said that one of the A clubs will be dropped into B competition. Additional teams to fill out the roster of the B league are ebing sought and managers of any team interested will be welcomed at the meeting.

Seeking admittance to the "A" circuit are Urschel Insurance, Komito's, Yuncker Sports, Ohio Sport Center, Mitsch's Corner store, Rogers Jewelry, Richland Beverage, Penn Auto and Martin Hardware. Urschel won the title last year.

"B" teams which are expected to compete are: Mansfield Tire, Rex Billiards, The Salesmen, Amvets and AVC.

Special Called Off

Plans for the Mansfield Tire "25-year" club's special train to the Senior high-Springfield game Friday have been cancelled for this year. Backers were unable to get the necessary 300 reservations at the required $7.75 cost.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
(By Associated Press)

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Willie Pep, 122, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Chuck Burton, 125, Newark, N. J., 8 (non-title).

LOS ANGELES—Maxie Docusen, 134, New Orleans, stopped Mario Trigo, 135, Tijuana, Mexico, 7.

HONOLULU—Carl "Bobo" Olson, 160, Honolulu, stopped Boy Brooks, 152, Manila, 3.

Fifty Drivers To Race Bikes Here Sunday

Nearly fifty of the state's motor bike specialists will be on hand Sunday to compete in the state Tourist Trophy championships at the Mansfield Motorcycle course Sunday at 2 p. m.

The course is located off Route 314, eight miles from Mansfield. Last year, 3,000 watched the state finals. A rumor has been circulating that the Sunday races have been cancelled but a club official said today that the races will go on as scheduled.

Competitors will be shooting for the $1,000 in prize money and trophies. Awards will go to winners in each of the three classes—novice, amateur and expert. There will be two eliminations and final in each class, making a nine-event program.

Drivers will pilot their "bikes" six laps around the one-third mile track in the prelims and 10 laps in the finals. The oil-treated track is one of the best in the state.

Johnny Runyon, Curly Dinges, Bayne Baker and Shorty Botterf are the only Mansfield drivers expected in the field. Art Heck, Willard, will defend expert championship. Heck has been the most consistent winner on the Akron track this year.

Blades Moves To Higher Job

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Ray Blades, a coach with the Dodgers for the past two seasons, has been made overseer of the Brooklyn baseball club's sprawling farm system.

The former St. Louis Cardinals manager was named yesterday to the post held by Burt Shotton before the latter was called up to succeed Leo Durocher as manager in July.

Blades' position on the coaching staff will go to Milt Stock, coach with the Cubs since 1944.

Casey Stengel New Pilot of Yankees

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Fun-filled days are sure to be ahead for the New York Yankees with Charles Dillon Stengel, the inimitable Casey, as the new manager of the club.

Stengel who gained big league baseball fame as a player with the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, and who later managed the Brooks as well as the Boston Braves, was signed to a two-year contract yesterday. He succeeds Bucky Harris.

The 57-year-old Missourian (he derived his nickname from his Kansas City birthplace) joins the conservative Yankees with a reputation as a madcap maestro with a flare for comedy. But he also possesses keen, analytical mind and a comprehensive idea of the game.

BACK AFTER FIVE

He comes back to the big leagues after five years in the minors. Only last Sunday, he finished piloting the Oakland club to a Pacific Coast league pennant and playoff championship.

Stengel managed second division clubs in the majors, but has had great success in the minors. Casey led Milwaukee to an American association flag in 1944.

His greatest forte is said to be developing young players. It was Stengel who first saw greatness in Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn and who developed Gene Bearden into a star pitcher.

Although Stengel was a big league outfielder 13 years, starred in three World Series and managed for nine years in the big time, he is best remembered for his laugh-provoking antics.

There was the time Casey, objecting to playing in semi-darkness, produced a toy flash light to summon Fred Frankhouse, a pitcher, from the bullpen. Although the spectators rocked with laughter, Casey drew a $25 fine.

OUT COMES PIGEON

Another time, Stengel was warned by Umpire Bill Klem to stop his heckling or he would be evicted. Klem called a strike on him, whereupon Casey bowed graciously, doffed his cap and out flew a pigeon.

Casey's first job in organized baseball was with his home town Kansas City club in 1910. He also played that year with Kankakee, Ill., and Maysville, Ky. He went two and a half years to a dental school but never got his diploma.

He joined the Dodgers in 1912. In 1918, Stengel was a Pirate, then entered the Navy. He left Pittsburgh at the end of the 1919 season because he had the temerity to ask owner Barney Dreyfuss for a raise.

"All I wanted was $300 more, so I got the last place Phillies instead," Casey related.

During the latter part of 1921, the Phils traded Stengel to the Giants. And starred in the losing '23 World Series against the Yankees. Casey was sent to the Braves the following season where he ended his big league playing career.

Power-Packed Pioneers Play Shelby Squad

Johnny Appleseed's powerful junior high school football team will go after its sixth straight victory under the Arlin field lights tonight with the Shelby reserves serving up the opposition. Game time is 7:30 p. m.

A crowd of 2,000 persons is expected to witness the game which also will include a half-time performance by the 50-piece Johnny Appleseed marching band. It is Appleseed's first game of the year at Arlin field.

Appleseed defeated Shelby 13-7 in the season opener, the closest game it had had to date. Since then, Coach Jimmy Lymper's Pioneers have romped easily over reserve teams of Wooster, Ashland, and Mt. Vernon twice.

Officials will be Tony Grant, Clarence Shafer and Vere Smith.

★

John Simpson was scheduled to play the Ashland reserves at Stadium field today at 4 p. m. The Bulldogs have won two of three games.

Bengal Thinclads Put Cross Country Record On Block

Mansfield Senior high school's fine cross country record will be endangered in a pair of meets this week. The Tyger harriers have raced to 20 straight victories over a three-year period. Victories this year have been over Newark, Fremont Ross and Cleveland Rhodes.

Tomorrow, the Bengal runners will meet Columbus West at the Coolridge course at 4 p. m. and Saturday they will go to Akron to meet East and Garfield high schools. The triangular affair will be run over the Goodyear recreation course starting at 10 a. m.

East took second in the 1947 state meet with Mansfield seventh and Columbus West ninth.

Joe Kasper Rolls 642 At Colony

Only one man—Joe Kasper—went over the honor roll mark last night, but he crossed the line in convincing fashion.

Rolling with the 20-Year club in the Mansfield Tire league at Colony, Kasper turned in a blistering 642 series on games of 231, 227, and 184. His 231 was far and away the best single game of the night, challenged only by his own second game mark.

Charles Bauer was runner-up to Kasper with a 189-212-173—574. Chuck McMullen recorded a 569 while other good scores in the loop included: Perry Smart, 559; Dick Metcalf, 541; Joe Zelena, 540; John Gross, 529.

★

In the Richland C league at the Recreation center E. Lucas was top man with 208-180-178—566. Joe Lesch came in second with 546 while E. Faught had 542 and Henry Carmel, 531.

★

The Transportation league at Colony produced no outstanding scores but had some keen competition for places in the standings. Three teams — Schmid's Tire, Dominion Electric, and National Life Insurance—all missed chances to take the undisputed league lead as they dropped one of three games. They are tied for the top with 11 victories and 4 defeats.

The Teamsters, buried in a sixth place tie, however, set new season league records, however, with a 915 single game and a 2626 series.

Harry Koozer won individual honors with a 231-135-196—562, while Eugene Shaffer was not far behind with 557. Gene Luedy had 551.

★

Willard Ruhl just missed the honor roll while leading the Elks league with a 199-219-181—599. Gene Funston was close behind with a 580 compiled on games of 207, 178, and 195. Don Dancer was the only other Elk over the 550 mark as he posted 556.

★

In the Westinghouse C league, W. Huffman was in the van on a 220-157-177—554. P. Brown had a 213 single game and 541 series, while Louis Tridico turned in a 550 series.

Fleitze Is Pacing Pigskin Scoring

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Bill Fleitze of Denison's still-winning bid red team paced Ohio conference football scorers today following his two touchdown performance in Saturday's 40-6 rout of Beloit, Wis. The Granville great has 48 points in three games, manufactured on eight touchdowns.

Next in line, with a 24-point splurge against Capital, is Paul Miletti of Heidelberg's Student Princes, who has a total of 30 for three tilts.
